One hundred nineteen Members having answered the roll call, the Secretary of State declares a quorum is present.

The Secretary of State announces that the first order of business is the election of a Speaker and declares that nominations are in order.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS

Representative Charles Beall places in nomination the name of Representative Liston B. Ramsey, of Madison County, as Speaker of the 1987 House of Representatives.

"Mr. Secretary of State, distinguished Members of the Judiciary, special guests, fellow Members of the House of Representatives:

"It is risky to speak in superlatives, to refer to the 'largest', the 'oldest', the 'greatest' and what-have-you, and I refrain from doing so as much as possible.

"But at this moment I feel it is safe, and appropriate, to speak in the superlative form. I have the honor to nominate for Speaker the most able and skillful presiding officer this body has ever known, the Honorable Liston B. Ramsey, my esteemed colleague from the 52nd House District.

"The honor of placing his name in nomination has now come my way for a third consecutive time, and for this I am truly grateful, but the greater honor that attaches to this occasion belongs, not to me, but to Liston Ramsey himself.

"His election to a fourth term as Speaker of the House of Representatives will be an extraordinary occurrence in the history of North Carolina. This is entirely fitting, because Liston Ramsey is an extraordinary individual.

"As the new Members of the House will learn, if you have not already done so, he is a recognized authority on the rules and procedures and processes that govern this body.

"He is a nuts-and-bolts man, yes, but he is much more than that, he is a leader who conducts the affairs of this House in a level-headed and even-handed manner that is fair to all members and all viewpoints.

"He is a stranger to pretense and formality, a person of simple abstract goodness who makes no effort to seem to be what he is not. Yet, he does not let his practicality blot out his humaneness. He is a faithful defender of the interests of the people, and many are his acts of quiet charity.

"I recall some remarks made on a similar occasion by my illustrious predecessor, Representative Ernest B. Messer of Haywood County.

"Mr. Messer noted that, 'because of the uneven terrain of the mountains, there is a common belief that we mountaineers have one leg shorter than the other'.

"'But', he said,'Liston Ramsey is not afflicted in this manner. He sees things in their proper perspective even though they may be presented to him tilted or even upside down'. Ernest phrased it well and I say Liston can cut a straight swath through the mountains -- and through the mountains of legislative and bureaucratic red tape. He is a man who knows where he is going and how to get there.

"When there is a job to be done, Liston Ramsey does it promptly, he does it swiftly, he does it cleanly, he does it well.

"By electing him to another term as Speaker, we will be assuring ourselves of a successful session and we will be paying tribute where tribute is so richly deserved.

"Ladies and gentlemen, I am honored to nominate for Speaker a dedicated leader, an understanding friend and an outstanding North Carolinian, the gentleman from Madison, the Honorable Liston Bryan Ramsey."

The nomination is seconded by Representative Bertha Holt.

"Some men - and women climb mountains. Some men - and women go to sea.

"One man came down from his beloved mountains and entered politics.

"Liston Bryan Ramsey brought with him courage - and common sense.

"And - the capacity to understand people -- to harmonize and yet to have strength of character enough to stick to what he believes is right for the people and the State.

"Add Liston Ramsey's years of experience and we have today a man whom destiny has placed in the right place at the right time in history.

"I, therefore, am honored to second the nomination of Liston Bryan Ramsey to be Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives for an unprecedented fourth term."

The nomination is also seconded by Representative Joe Hackney.

"Mr. Secretary of State, distinguished visitors, fellow members of the House, Ladies and Gentlemen:

"Because Liston B. Ramsey has served our State and this House of Representatives with distinction in the Jeffersonian tradition, I am pleased to second his nomination as Speaker for a fourth term.

"If Liston B. Ramsey had been born here two hundred years earlier, in 1719, rather than 1919, it is easy to imagine that he might have represented North Carolina at an event beginning in May of 1787 – the Constitutional Convention in Philadelphia. In this, the Bicentennial year of our United States Constitution, we are privileged to have the opportunity to select as our Speaker a man who, had he been present at that Constitutional Convention, would have stood four square with James Madison and others, who placed their faith in the democratic ideas of Thomas Jefferson – who placed their faith in the common man. Liston B. Ramsey is a man who would have recognized the views of Alexander Hamilton, Jefferson's adversary, for what they were – the advocacy of governance by the wealthy and powerful, having no rightful place in a new American government.

"Today, Liston B. Ramsey is as faithful to those Jeffersonian ideals as was Madison at Philadelphia in 1787.

– "He believes in the right of the people to choose, through their elected representatives, their own futures – So did Jefferson, who wrote in 1820, 33 years after the Constitutional Convention, 'I know of no safe depository of the ultimate powers of the society but the people themselves'.

– "He believes in the virtue of free wheeling open debate, perhaps having noted, as did Jefferson in 1801, that 'Error of opinion may be tolerated where reason is left free to combat it'.

– "He believes in the value of education in a free society, as did Jefferson, who wrote, in 1816, 'Enlighten the people generally, and tyranny and oppressions of body and mind will vanish like evil spirits at the dawn of day'.

– "He believes that government has a role in maintaining a stable economy where the free market can operate. This means that the poor cannot plunder the wealthy and powerful, but neither can the wealthy and powerful plunder the poor.

– "He believes in our agrarian heritage, with its reverence for our land and water and air, and its determination to preserve them for those who come after.

– "He believes, like Jefferson, in brevity, and that 'speeches measured by the hour, die by the hour'.

"And so, fellow Members, it is my pleasure to second the nomination of Liston B. Ramsey as Speaker, and in doing so to ask you to continue our House leadership in the Jeffersonian tradition to which we adhere each time we gather in this House Chamber."

The nomination is also seconded by Representative C. R. Edwards.

"Mr. Secretary, ladies and gentlemen of the House, and distinguished visitors:

"It is my distinct pleasure and high privilege to join other colleagues in seconding the nomination of the Honorable Liston B. Ramsey for another term as Speaker of the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of North Carolina.

"For two (2) terms, I have sat in this august body and have been amazed at the knowledge and skill with which he has led and guided us through our deliberations. He is indeed, a man who knows the rules and administers them evenhandedly but with kindness.

"For those of you who have been entrusted by the people of your district and are serving for the first time, I say to you, be at ease, for in Liston Ramsey we have had a man who is easy to meet and easy to talk with. One who is ready to help and who has an open door policy. You will feel and be welcome to go into his Chambers to discuss your concern for we have found that our concerns are his concerns.

"We have found him able and available, capable and competent, cool and collected, efficient and proficient, personable and patient, warm and winsome. One who is firm but fair possessing poise and power. For these and other reasons, ladies and gentlemen, I commend him to you.

"Liston Ramsey is not only a man from the mountain, he is also a mountain of a man. He stands tall in the forest of action and accountability. His love for his Country and his State is impeccable.

"He has around him a beautiful, cordial and efficient staff who helps him to carry out the duties of the high office he seeks.

"I, therefore, call upon you, fellow members of the House to join me in voting enthusiastically and overwhelmingly for the Honorable Liston B. Ramsey for Speaker of the House."

The nomination is also seconded by Representative Wendell Murphy.

"Mr. Secretary of State, distinguished visitors and guests, fellow Members of the House:

"It is with the greatest of pleasure and a feeling of honor that I rise to second the nomination of Liston B. Ramsey as Speaker of the North Carolina House of Representatives.

"To me, and to others who have served under his guidance, Liston Ramsey symbolizes a lighthouse. There is an old saying that goes like this:

"'A lighthouse doesn't ring bells or fire cannons to call attention to itself.

"'It just shines on'.

"That's Liston Ramsey. He has truly been a beacon lighting the way for effective legislation, and he has done this without calling attention to himself.

"He understands that good programs are not built on grand gestures but on solid performance.

"He 'just shines on'."

"As a Member of this House for a quarter of a century and as Speaker for the past six years, he has made a large imprint on North Carolina and her people. And he has endeared himself to the Members of the General Assembly as few others have.

"I am highly honored to second the nomination of my friend and associate and your friend and associate, the Honorable Liston B. Ramsey, as Speaker of this body.

"Thank you very much."

The Chair recognizes Representative Margaret Keesee-Forrester who places in nomination the name of Representative Betsy L. Cochrane, of Davie County, as Speaker of the 1987 House of Representatives.

The nomination is seconded by Representatives Charles Cromer and Coy C. Privette.

There being no further nominations, the Secretary of State declares the nominations closed and requests that the roll of the House be called. The following members vote for Representative Ramsey: Representatives Alexander, Anderson, Barnes, Barnhill, Beall, Beard, Blue, Bowen, Bowman, Brannan, B. Brown, Bumgardner, Burke, Chapin, Church, Colton, Cooper, J. W. Crawford, N. J. Crawford, Cunningham, Dawkins, DeVane, Diamont, Easterling, Edwards, Enloe, Bob Etheridge, Bruce Ethridge, Fitch, Fletcher, Foster, Freeman, Fussell, Gist, Hackney, Hall, Hardaway, Hasty, Hightower, Holroyd, Holt, Jack Hunt, Judy Hunt, S. Thompson, S. Thompson, Tyndall, Warner, E. Warren, Watkins, Wicker, Wilmoth, Wiser, Woodard, and Wright - 82.

The following members vote for Representative Cochrane: Representatives Abernethy, Barbee, Boyd, Brawley, J. Brown, Brubaker, Buchanan, Chalk, Craven, Cromer, Decker, Duncan, Esposito, L. Etheridge, Gardner, Grady, Grimmer, Hege, Holmes, Huffman, Hughes, Isenhower, Justus, Keesee-Forrester, Ligon, Mothershead, Privette, Rhodes, Rhyne, Sizemore, Starnes, Tallent, Walker, R. Warren, and Windley - 35.

Representative Ramsey having received a majority vote is declared Speaker of the 1987 House of Representatives.

The Speaker, escorted to the Chair by Representatives Jo Graham Foster, Ray Fletcher, J. W. Crawford, Howard Chapin, David Redwine, and Milton F. Fitch takes and subscribes to the following oath of office administered by the Honorable Henry E. Frye, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of North Carolina.

"I, Liston B. Ramsey, do solemnly swear that I will support the Constitution and laws of the United States; and,

"I do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain, and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States; to the best of my knowledge and ability; and,

"I do solemnly swear that I will well and truly execute the duties of the office of Speaker of the 1987 House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina to the best of my skill and ability, according to laws; so help me, God."

The Speaker, Mr. Ramsey, approaches the dias and makes the following remarks:

"Mr. Secretary of State, Justices of the Supreme Court, Judges of the Court of Appeals, Members of the Council of State, fellow members of the House, my family and friends, ladies and gentlemen.

"I am deeply grateful for this further expression of confidence on the part of the Members of the North Carolina House of Representatives. To know that I continue to have your trust gives me added incentive to serve you more efficiently and more completely in the future.

"I thank each of you and I pledge to perform the duties of the Speakership to the limit of my ability, in keeping with the solemn oath I have just taken.

"Our constituents have selected us to chart the course of North Carolina over the next two years, and today we begin that task.

"I'm not going to say: 'I'm counting on you'. I will need your support, yes, but that is not the point. The point is that the six million-plus inhabitants of North Carolina are counting on you.

"They are counting on you to write sound and constructive legislation that will provide for their needs and that will continue the forward progress of their state.

"Each of you will have a part to play in carrying out this great task. Each of you possesses qualities of leadership---else you would not be here. Working separately, we cannot succeed. Working together, we cannot fail.

"Political differences exist, of course, but this is the nature of our system of representative government. It is not a problem so long as we approach our task with awareness and energy. As someone once said: 'Political difference is healthy. It's political indifference that is harmful'.

"A warm, fraternal feeling exists among those having seats upon this floor. Our differences are honestly and squarely fought out -- They are not permitted to dilute those warm and kindly relations that bind together the Members of this House and this General Assembly.

"The people of North Carolina deserve a government that is dedicated to restraint in spending, yet is aware of their needs. And they deserve a government that is committed to working in harmony among all branches of government -- Legislative, Executive and Judicial.

"We pledge to the Executive and Judiciary our full cooperation, and we solicit the same in return.

"I hope our session will be an exercise in popular government, taking advantage of no one and aiming at a better life for everyone. Personal ambitions or personal preferences should never stand in the way of service to the public at-large.

"It is not the duty of government to play Robin Hood or Santa Claus, but it is the duty of government to make ample provision for the needs of those it serves.

"Our state is financially sound -- sounder than most of the other 49 -- but we need to be mindful of certain factors that could have an impact on our budget.

"The tax reduction package enacted by the 1985 General Assembly will reduce the funds available to us by $160 million.

"Our availability will be reduced further by the Federal Gramm-Rudman Amendment -- how much, we don't know yet.

"Our overall economy continues to move along at a slow rate. Some areas -- for example, construction, financial institutions, retail trade, and personal and business services -- are doing quite well. Other sectors of the economy, such as farming and manufacturing, continue to have real problems. And, economically, our urban areas continue to outpace our rural areas and small towns.

"It will take patience, long hours and hard work. But by getting our priorities in order and by using our resources in a sensible manner, I have every confidence that we can do what needs to be done to assure a bright future for North Carolina.

"The future of North Carolina lies in its children.

"The future of its children lies in education.

"The future of education lies in proper funding.

"We are committed to the long-range funding of a basic education program, which will require approximately $150 million in the fiscal year beginning next July 1. We can fund this next step if we hold the line in other non-essential places.

"We really have no choice but to do so. The training of the human mind is the foremost responsibilty of government. It is fundamental to all we do or ever hope to do as a state.

"We have made a commitment, we have charted a course, and much remains to be done before we can even hope to pause in our forward movement in education.

"Not only will we meet our educational needs -- we will also find a way to fund all essential programs at adequate levels.

"As Edward Everett Hale once said, our approach should be 'To look up and not down, To look forward and not back, To look out and not in, And to lend a hand'.

"We should assist the disadvantaged and the helpless. We should assure the public health and safety. We should protect our natural resources and our agriculture. We should do what needs to be done to assure for our people an adequate and reliable system of highways.

"We will do these things and more, and we will do them within the framework of available revenue.

"We do not gain strength by not having problems. We do it by having problems and then solving them. It is challenge that strengthens us.

"We will be challenged -- of that we can be sure. Working together, this Legislature and this State will emerge even stronger -- of that we can also be sure.

"We intend to proceed in a cautious yet positive fashion. We should not make promises we cannot keep; we should not seek headlines at the expense of solid performance; we should stand on our record, all of us, then our accomplishments will speak for themselves.

"I hope the Members of this House will feel free to call on me if ever you have a problem that needs my attention, or if I can be of assistance to you in any way.

"Meanwhile, please accept my warmest personal thanks for the support you have expressed here today. It will not be forgotten, and I hope the test of time will justify your generous appraisal of my work on behalf of you and on behalf of the people of North Carolina.

"Thank you very much."

"I do solemnly and sincerely swear that I will be faithful and bear true allegiance to the State of North Carolina, and to the constitutional powers and authorities which are or may be established for the government thereof; and that I will endeavor to support, maintain, and defend the Constitution of said State, not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States; to the best of my knowledge and ability; and,

"I do solemnly swear that I will faithfully discharge my duties as Speaker Pro Tempore of the 1987 House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the State of North Carolina to the best of my skill and ability; so help me, God."

The Speaker Pro Tempore, Representative Hunt, makes the following remarks:

"Mr. Secretary of State, Members of the Judiciary, visitors and guests, family and friends, ladies and gentlemen of the House.

"Many of the people I care the most about are seated here in this hall at this time. In such a setting, it is difficult to find the words to describe my feelings.

"I suppose the best two words would be 'gratitude' and 'thankfulness' for the General Assembly of North Carolina.

"I have just received the greatest reward a person can receive -- the trust and approval of his colleagues. I thank each of you from the bottom of my heart.

"I have held membership over the years in a number of social, service or fraternal organizations. Some were mostly social, some were primarily service-oriented, and some were a combination of both. But being a member of the North Carolina General Assembly is by far the most satisfying experience of my public life. Each of the three branches of State Government contributes to the successful operation of our State.

"Ladies and Gentlemen, I love the Legislature, and my affection for it grows with each passing day.

"I love its Members and I respect its process.

"Not only is it a fascinating process -- it is a process that works.

"We have had governors with highly ambitious legislative programs.

"We have had governors with moderately ambitious programs.

"And we have had governors with programs of little or no real substance.

"In each of these situations, the collective wisdom of the General Assembly -- the 170 members, each elected by 50,000 or more North Carolinians, has prevailed. It has separated the wheat from the chaff. It has made ample provision for truly essential programs. And it has invariably moved North Carolina forward -- always forward.

"The Legislature, to a degree unequalled by any other institution, is responsible for the popular saying: 'good government is a habit in North Carolina'.

"The session we are convening here today will carry forward the tradition of good government -- of that I have no doubt. When our work is done this summer, we will have written another chapter in good government -- and you, each and every one of you, will have made a contribution. This is the House of Representatives. This is the people's House. We represent the people.

"We are extremely fortunate to have as our leader once again one of the finest persons North Carolina has produced -- our esteemed Speaker, Liston B. Ramsey. I have known great men who were not good, and I have known good men who were not great. But in Liston Ramsey we have a great and good man. This man is good for the people in North Carolina and great for the entire State. It will be a high privilege for me to work with him and for him as Speaker Pro Tem of the House of Representatives during this session.

"I accept the office with grateful appreciation and with a determination to do all things possible to justify your continuing faith and trust."

THE RECEIVING OF PETITIONS, MEMORIALS AND PAPERS ADDRESSED TO THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OR TO THE HOUSE

February 18, 1987

The Honorable Liston B. Ramsey
Speaker of the House of Representatives
State Legislative Building
Raleigh, North Carolina 27611

Dear Speaker Ramsey:

Pursuant to G.S. 143-15, I submit herewith and recommend the enactment of the two attached emergency appropriations bills. One bill authorizes creation of an Emergency Prison Facilities Development Program and an Emergency Prison Facilities Fund to expedite prison construction. The other would provide immediate funding for parole personnel including seven (7) pre-parole investigators, seven (7) probation officers, and five (5) two-person intensive teams which are needed to handle an anticipated increase in emergency paroles.

I recognize that the Prison Select Committee has recommended funding for only seven (7) additional parole officers to handle the anticipated increase in case loads. However, at the time the Select Committee made its recommendations, it was not aware of the Department's needs for investigators and increased intensive supervision. When the population of the prison system is capped, numerous prisoners will have to be paroled immediately. The Department of Correction and the Parole Commission will have great difficulty complying with the legal mandate without these additional positions.

Also attached is a bill that would allow the Department of Correction to enter design and construction contracts for renovation of existing facilities without being subject to the laws normally applicable to renovation of state buildings.

The measures proposed herewith, together with other legislation to impose a cap on the prison population, are in response to our mutual recognition of the need to move quickly to reduce prison crowding and speed prison construction and renovation. In our several meetings and conversations since the first of the year, you have asked that the administration advise you what was needed to get the job done, and I appreciate that willingness to work together on this problem. The proposed legislation will get the job done. I recommend that it be given immediate consideration by the General Assembly.

My reading of the relevant statute leads me to the conclusion that you will provide for introduction of the legislation submitted herewith,

I assume by the appropriate committee chairmen. Thank you for that consideration.

Sincerely,
S/James G. Martin
Governor

On motion of the Chair, the letter is referred to the Committee on Appropriations.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. Effective on the date of ratification of this act, the Iredell County Board of Education is expanded from five to seven members. Five members shall be those presently serving as members of the Board of Education, and two members shall be appointed by the Board of Education. Within 30 days of ratification of this act, the Iredell County Board of Education shall appoint two persons, one to serve until the first Monday in December of 1988, and until a successor is elected and qualifies, and one to serve until the first Monday in December of 1990, and until a successor is elected and qualifies. In making appointments, the Iredell County Board of Education shall consider the geographic and demographic makeup of the then current board so that the appointments can help ensure that the board broadly represents all the citizens of the school unit.

Sec. 2. In 1988 and quadrennially thereafter, three members of the Iredell County Board of Education shall be elected for four-year terms. In 1990 and quadrennially thereafter, four members of the Iredell County Board of Education shall be elected for four-year terms.

Sec. 3. The Iredell County Board of Education may adopt an apportionment plan which provides that the Iredell County School Administrative Unit is divided into electoral districts for the purpose of electing members of the Iredell County Board of Education. Such plan shall not affect the right of appointed members under Section 2 of this act to finish the remainder of the term of office. The qualified voters of each district shall elect a person who resides in that district for the seat apportioned to that district. Each district shall elect one member. The apportionment plan may provide for up to three of the members of the Board of Education to be elected at-large by all the qualified voters of the school administrative unit. Any apportionment plan under this section, in order to become effective for elections in the succeeding year, must be approved by the Iredell County Board of Education no later than December 31.

Sec. 4. This act is effective upon ratification."

CONFERENCE COMMITTEE SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE BILL 944

AN ACT TO INCREASE THE EXCISE TAX ON SPIRITUOUS LIQUOR AND TO PROVIDE THAT LOCAL SALES TAXES SHALL BE LEVIED BY THE COUNTY IN WHICH THE RETAILER IS LOCATED WHEN THE PROPERTY SOLD IS DELIVERED TO THE PURCHASER IN ANOTHER COUNTY.

Whereas, the 1985 General Assembly during its 1986 Session enacted additional law enforcement retirement benefits which costs may have exceeded available financial resources across the State requiring that additional revenue be expended; and

Whereas, it is the intent of the General Assembly that the additional revenue that will accrue to local governments as a result of this act be used to the extent necessary to fund the additional law enforcement retirement benefits; Now, therefore,

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 18B-208(b) reads as rewritten:

"(b) Special Fund. A special fund in the office of the State Treasurer, the ABC Commission Fund, is created. On and after November 1, 1982, all moneys derived from the collection of bailment charges and bailment surcharges shall be deposited in the ABC Commission Fund for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of this Chapter. The ABC Commission Fund shall be subject to the provisions of the Executive Budget Act except that no unexpended surplus of this fund shall revert to the General Fund. The Commission shall fix the level of the bailment surcharges at an amount calculated to cover operating expenses of the Commission ~~and the ALE Division~~ and the Retirement of bonds issued for construction of a Commission warehouse and offices. The Commission may impose a bailment surcharge only when revenue bonds issued under this section are outstanding.

All moneys credited to the ABC Commission Fund shall be used to carry out the intent and purposes of the ABC law in accordance with plans approved by the North Carolina ABC Commission and the Director of the Budget, and all these funds are appropriated, reserved, set aside, and made available until expended for the administration of the ABC law."

Sec. 2. G.S. 105-113.80(c) is rewritten to read:

"(c) Liquor. An excise tax of twenty-eight percent (28%) is levied on liquor sold in ABC stores. Pursuant to G.S. 18B-804(b), the price of liquor on which this tax is computed is the distiller's price plus (i) the State ABC warehouse freight and bailment charges, and (ii) a markup for local ABC boards. This tax is in lieu of sales and use taxes; accordingly, liquor is exempt from those taxes as provided in G.S. 105-164.13(37)."

Sec. 3. Operating expenses for the ALE Division shall be paid from the budget of the Department of Crime Control and Public Safety.

Sec. 4. The last paragraph of G.S. 105-467 reads as rewritten:

"The local sales tax authorized to be imposed and levied under the provisions of this Article shall be applicable to such retail sales, leases, rentals, rendering of services, furnishing of rooms, lodgings or accommodations and other taxable transactions which are made, furnished or rendered by retailers whose place of business is located within the taxing county. The tax imposed shall apply to the furnishing of rooms, lodging or other accommodations within the county which are rented to transients. ~~However no tax shall be imposed where the intangible personal property sold is delivered to the purchaser at a point outside the taxing county by the retailer or his agent, or by a~~ ~~common carrier.~~ For the purpose of this Article,the situs of a transaction is the location of the retailer's place of business."

Sec. 5. Section 4 of Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, is further amended by deleting the sentence at the end of that section that begins "No tax shall" and substituting the following:

"For the purpose of this act, the situs of a transaction is the location of the retailer's place of business."

Sec. 6. G.S. 105-486 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-486. Distribution of additional taxes. ~~(a) County Allocation.~~ The Secretary shall, on a quartely basis, ~~distribute~~ allocate the net proceeds of the additional one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes levied under this Article to the taxing counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Budget Officer.

(b) Adjustment. The Secretary shall then adjust the amount allocated to eachcounty undersubsection (a) by multiplying the amount by the appropriate adjustment factor set out in the table below:

(c) Distribution Between Counties and Cities. The amount ~~distributed to a~~ allocated to each taxing county shall then be divided among the county and its municipalities in accordance with the method by which the one percent (1%) sales and use taxes levied in that county pursuant to Article 39 of this Chapter or Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws are distributed. If any taxes levied under this Article by a county have not been collected in that county for a full quarter because of the levy or repeal of the taxes, the Secretary shall distribute a pro rata share to that county for that quarter based on the number of months the taxes were collected in that county during the quarter."

Sec. 7. G.S. 105-493 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-493. Distribution of taxes. The Secretary shall, on a quarterly basis, ~~distribute~~ allocate the net proceeds of any one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes levied under this Article in accordance with G.S. 105-486. For purposes of the ~~distribution~~ allocation under G.S. 105-486, a county that levies one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes under this Article is considered a taxing county under that section. To make the distribution allocation required by G.S. 105-486 and this section, the Secretary shall add the net proceeds of local sales and use taxes levied under Article 40 of this Chapter and under this Article, and shall then ~~distribute~~ allocate this amount to the taxing counties on a per capita basis as provided in G.S. 105-486. The amount ~~distributed~~ allocated to a county that levies one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes under this Article shall be adjusted by multiplying it by the appropriate adjustment factor set out in the table in G.S. 105-486(b) and then divided among the county and its municipalities on either a per capita or an ad valorem tax basis, as designated by the board of county commissioners in a resolution adopted pursuant to G.S. 105-472. If any taxes levied under this Article by a county have not been collected in that county for a full quarter because of the levy or repeal of the taxes, the Secretary shall distribute a pro rata share to that county for that quarter based on the number of months the taxes were collected in that county during the quarter."

Sec. 8. G.S. 1105-501 reads as rewritten:

"§ 105-501. Distribution of additional taxes. The Secretary shall, on a quarterly basis, ~~distribute~~ allocate the net proceeds of the additional one-half percent (1/2%) sales and use taxes levied under this Article to the taxing counties on a per capita basis according to the most recent annual population estimates certified to the Secretary by the State Budget Officer. The Secretary shall then adjust the amount allocated to each county by multiplying the amount by the appropriate adjustment factor set out in the table in G.S. 105-486(b). The amount ~~distributed to a~~ allocated to each taxing county shall then be divided among the county and the municipalities located in the county in accordance with the method by which the one percent (1%) sales and use taxes levied in that county pursuant to Article 39 of this Chapter or Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws are distributed.

If any taxes levied under this Article by a county have not been collected in that county for a full quarter because of the levy or repeal of the taxes, the Secretary shall distribute a pro rata share to that county for that quarter based on the number of months the taxes were collected in that county during the quarter."

Sec. 9. The board of commissioners of any county may, by resolution, after 10 days' public notice and a public hearing held pursuant thereto, adopt the expansion of the local sales tax levy provided in this act. Upon adoption of such a resolution, the board of commissioners shall forward a copy of the resolution to the Secretary of Revenue. Pursuant to the provisions of G.S. 105-483, 105-490, and 105-498, adoption of the expansion of the Local Government Sales and Use Act provided in Section 4 of this act constitutes adoption of an equivalent expansion of the local sales taxes levied under Articles 40, 41, and 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes.

Sec. 10. If a county fails to adopt the expansion of the Local Government Sales and Use Tax Act provided in Section 4 of this act on or before February 1, 1988, the sales and use taxes levied by the county pursuant to Articles 39, 40, 41, and 42 are repealed effective March 1, 1988, because they will be inconsistent with the scope of the levies authorized by those Articles as amended effective March 1, 1988. If Mecklenburg County fails to adopt the expansion of Section 4 of Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws provided in Section 5 of this act on or before February 1, 1988, the sales and use tax levied by Mecklenburg County pursuant to Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws is repealed effective March 1, 1988, because it will be inconsistent with the scope of the levy authorized by that Chapter as amended effective March 1, 1988, and the sales and use taxes levied by Mecklenburg County pursuant to Articles 40, 41, and 42 are repealed effective March 1, 1988, because those Articles will no longer apply to Mecklenburg County, as provided in G.S. 105-482, 105-489, and 105-497. If the sales and use taxes levied by a county are repealed as provided in this section because the county failed to adopt the expansion of the local sales tax levy, the county may, on or after March 1, 1988, levy local sales and use taxes in accordance with the provisions of Articles 39, 40, 41, and 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes and Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as applicable.

Sec. 11. This act does not affect the rights or liabilities of the State, a taxpayer, or other person arising under a statute amended or repealed by this act before its amendment or repeal; nor does it affect the right to any refund or credit of a tax that would otherwise have been available under the amended or repealed statute before its amendment or repeal.

Sec. 12. It is the intent of the General Assembly that a Select Committee composed of members of the General Assembly shall be appointed to study the impact on local sales and use tax revenue and the administrative cost savings to the State of consolidating the local sales and use taxes levied under Articles 39, 40, 41, and 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes and under Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, with the State sales and use tax levied under Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes. It is further intended that the Select Committee shall report to the 1987 General Assembly on the first day of the 1988 Regular Session.

Sec. 13. It is the intent of the General Assembly that if the local sales and use taxes levied under Articles 39, 40, 41, and 42 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes and under Chapter 1096 of the 1967 Session Laws, as amended, are at a later date consolidated with the State sales and use taxes levied under Article 5 of Chapter 105 of the General Statutes, then the legislation enacting the consolidation shall also change the method of distributing the proceeds of the excise tax on liquor levied under G.S. 105- 113.80(c) from the current formulation to a new method that would distribute one-eighth (1/8) of the total proceeds of that excise tax to local governments in the same manner as the State sales and use tax proceeds that are distributed to local governments under the legislation that consolidates the local sales taxes with the State sales tax.

Sec. 14. Section 1 through 3 of this act shall become effective October 1, 1987. Sections 4 through 8 of this act shall become effective March 1, 1988, and apply to sales made on or after that date. The remainder of this act is effective upon ratification.

The Conference Report is placed on the Calendar for its second roll call reading for adoption.

COMMITTEE REPORT

REPORT OF THE LEGISLATIVE ETHICS COMMITTEE WITH RESPECT TO AN INQUIRY INTO THE ACTS OF REPRESENTATIVE JAMES HUGHES

The Joint Legislative Ethics Committee pursuant to G.S. 120-103 is empowered to determine if legislators have violated the provisions of Article 14 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes and only of that Article (except for G.S. 143-559). The Committee understands G.S. 120-103 to mean that it shall determine whether legislators have violated the specific statutes contained in said Article or the ethical rulings previously determined by the Committee or its predecessors and disseminated to the individual members of the General Assembly.

The Committee met in executive session five times to consider the allegations of unethical conduct against Representative Hughes before its public hearings. The Committee heard the SBI investigative report on these allegations. The committee held two public hearings, one in Raleigh and one in Boone. The Committee has heard evidence from all of the witnesses which it subpoenaed in this matter and from some of the witnesses subpoenaed by Representative Hughes. More than twenty-five witnesses appeared before the Committee.

The Committee finds that there is no evidence from which it could find that Representative Hughes violated any statutes contained in Article 14 of Chapter 120 of the General Statutes or from any ethical ruling which is has or its predecessors has previously made and disseminated to the membership of the General Assembly.

The Committee therefore dismisses the complaint and inquiry into the alleged acts of Representative James Hughes.

This 12th day of August 1987.

Chairman, Joint Legislative Ethics Committee

AN ACT TO PROVIDE THAT A CONSENT JUDGMENT OF EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION CAN BE ENTERED PRIOR OR SUBSEQUENT TO THE ENTRY OF A JUDGMENT OF ABSOLUTE DIVORCE, AND TO PERMIT AN ACTION FOR EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION TO BE INSTITUTED, DISCOVERY TO BE OBTAINED, AND TEMPORARY ORDERS RELATING TO EQUITABLE DISTRIBUTION TO BE ENTERED PRIOR TO THE ENTRY OF A JUDGMENT OF ABSOLUTE DIVORCE.

The General Assembly of North Carolina enacts:

Section 1. G.S. 50-21 is rewritten to read:

'§ 50-21. Procedures in actions for equitable distribution of property.--(a) At any time after a husband and wife begin to live separate and apart from each other, a claim for equitable distribution may be filed, either as a separate civil action, or together with any other action brought pursuant to Chapter 50 of the General Statutes, or as a motion in the cause as provided by G.S. 50-11(e) or (f). During the pendency of any such action for equitable distribution, discovery may proceed, and the court may enter temporary orders as appropriate and necessary for the purpose of preventing the disappearance, waste, or destruction of marital or separate property or to secure the possession thereof.

A judgment for an equitable distribution shall not be entered prior to entry of a decree of absolute divorce, except for a consent judgment, which may be entered at any time during the pendency of the action.

Real or personal property located outside of North Carolina is subject to equitable distribution in accordance with the provisions of G.S. 50-20 and the court may include in its order appropriate provisions to ensure compliance with the order of equitable distribution.

(b) For purposes of equitable distribution, marital property shall be valued as of the date of the separation of the parties.

(c) Nothing in G.S. 50-20 or this section shall restrict or extend the right to trial by jury as provided by the Constitution of North Carolina.'

Sec. 2. G.S. 50-20(k) is rewritten to read:

'(k) The rights of the parties to an equitable distribution of marital property are a species of common ownership, the rights of the respective parties vesting at the time of the parties' separation.'

Sec. 3. G.S. 50-11(f) is rewritten to read:

'(f) An absolute divorce by a court that lacked personal jurisdiction over the absent spouse or lacked jurisdiction to dispose of the property shall not destroy the right of a spouse to an equitable distribution of marital property under G.S. 50-20 if an action or motion in the cause is filed within six months after the judgment of divorce is entered. The validity of such divorce may be attacked in the action for equitable distribution.'

Sec. 4. This act shall become effective October 1, 1987."

And the Senate agrees to the same.

To this end, the conferees recommend that the Senate and House of Representatives adopt the foregoing report.

The person seeking review must file the petition within 30 days after the person is served with a written copy of the decision. For good cause shown, however, the superior court may accept an untimely petition."

Sec. 17. G.S. 150B-49 is rewritten to read:

"§ 150B-49. New evidence.--An aggrieved person who files a petition in the superior court may apply to the court to present additional evidence. If the court is satisfied that the evidence is material to the issues, is not merely cumulative, and could not reasonably have been presented at the administrative hearing, the court may remand the case so that additional evidence can be taken. If an administrative law judge did not make a recommended decision in the case, the court shall remand the case to the agency that conducted the administrative hearing. After hearing the evidence, the agency may affirm or modify its previous findings of fact and final decision. If an administrative law judge made a recommended decision in the case, the court shall remand the case to the administrative law judge. In reviewing a final decision in a contested case in which an administrative law judge made a recommended decision, the court shall make two initial determinations. First, the court shall determine whether the agency heard new evidence after receiving the recommended decision. If the court determines that the agency heard new evidence, the court shall reverse the decision or remand the case to the agency to enter a decision in accordance with the evidence in the official record. Second, if the agency did not adopt the recommended decision, the court shall determine whether the agency's decision states the specific reasons why the agency did not adopt the recommended decision. If the court determines that the agency did not state specific reasons why it did not adopt a recommended decision, the court shall reverse the decision or remand the case to the agency to enter the specific reasons.

(b) Standard of Review. After making the determinations, if any, required by subsection (a), the court reviewing a final decision may affirm the decision of the agency or remand the case for further proceedings. It may also reverse or modify the agency's decision if the substantial rights of the petitioners may have been prejudiced because the agency's findings, inferences, conclusions, or decisions are:

Pending the outcome of an appeal, an appealing party may apply to the court that issued the judgment under appeal for a stay of that judgment or a stay of the administrative decision that is the subject of the appeal, as appropriate."

Sec. 21. G.S. 150B-2 is amended by adding the following definition in the appropriate alphabetical order:

(3) by deleting subdivision (a)(5);

(4) by deleting the phrase ", opinion, order, or report" in subdivision (a)(6) and substituting the words "or order"; and

(5) by adding a new subsection to read:

"(c) The Office of Administrative Hearings shall forward a copy of the official record to the agency making the final decision and shall forward a copy of the recommended decision to each party."

Sec. 26. G.S. 150B-33(b)(9) is amended by deleting the word "administrative".

Sec. 27. G.S. 150B-44 is amended by deleting the second sentence and substituting the following:

"Except for an agency that is a board or commission, an agency's failure to make a final decision within 60 days of the date on which all exceptions or arguments are filed under G.S. 150B-36(a) with the agency constitutes an unreasonable delay. GOVERNOR JAMES G. MARTIN
STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS
LEGISLATIVE BUILDING

"Mr. Speaker, Lieutenant Governor Jordan. Members of the 137th North Carolina General Assembly. Distinguished Guests. Ladies and Gentlemen.

"I am here this evening at your kind invitation, and in obedience to our State Constitution, which for 211 years has manifested the sovereignty of our State in a proud and virtuous people. It is to you their representatives, directly, and to them, indirectly, that I am pleased to present my Biennial Budget Message and report on the 'State of the State,' which I may supplement from time to time.

ECONOMY OF THE STATE

"Overall, our ECONOMY has had a relatively strong year. The total number of JOBS broke above 3 million for the first time in December, 1985, and throughout 1986 averaged above that 3 million mark. Correspondingly, the Rate of UNEMPLOYMENT, which had dropped from 7% in 1984 to 5% in 1985, (averaging 5.4% for the year 1985) has held to that level, averaging 5.3% throughout 1986, and is currently below 5%. Certainly, there's still room for improvement, but it's worth noting that only a couple of states ranked better throughout this past biennium; none in the Southeast.

"Our so-called Gross-State-Product, consequently, has steadily outpaced the Gross-National-Product. One of the most reassuring reports was the resurgence of Manufacturing Jobs, especially among Textiles and Apparel, which regained more than 6 thousand jobs, in a dramatic reversal from the previous decade's trend.

"Average Personal Income showed only modest improvement, clearly an area which will command greater attention in the next few years.

"Our greatest concern regarding the ECONOMY is the increasing difficulty experienced recruiting new business investment to North Carolina. The competition from other states is tougher and more aggressive than before, and there are fewer known prospects in the field to satisfy all this competition. So, our pipeline is not as full as in years past. Surely, this is no time for complacency or negativism.

'BLUEPRINT'

"That is why our Commerce Department has laid out a bold plan to set fresh targets of opportunity for our recruiting efforts. With all our 'high tech' successes, we have not scratched the surface of the aerospace and defense related industries. They are eager to expand...our way.

"My Administration discovered early on that with all our efforts to recruit new industry to North Carolina, there previously wasn't much of an effort, or have much of a program, for the hundred thousand businesses already here. Our new office for 'Traditional Industries' is a pioneering effort that we are sharing with other States.

"North Carolina's 'traditional industries' have gotten (indeed have sought) very little of the business for supplying the needs of America's armed forces. Surely, we can improve on this. We are making progress attracting manufacturers of automotive components, and many other targets appear attractive for us. We have had some spectacular successes bringing foreign companies to invest here, and we can do much more.

"With the U.S. dollar finding a truer exchange rate with foreign currencies, the time is ripe. The next two years should also be a prime time for us to become more aggressive about exporting North Carolina's many quality products into their markets, for a welcome change. That's why we propose a bolder commitment of State offices overseas: to help sell North Carolina. That's why I proposed new summer institutes for foreign languages: to help North Carolina compete in world markets. It just makes good sense.

"Our regional offices in-state will also be strengthened, and our State Library's new telecommunications network will give every county immediate access to vital business information. Far exceeding any other state, this will share a powerful weapon for recruiting and helping technology-dependent business in rural areas far removed from resource centers.

"We will strengthen our North Carolina Film Office, to assist movie makers in taking advantage of the attitudes and skills of our workers, our climate, our natural lighting so admired by Steven Spielberg for 'The Color Purple.'

"Currently, we have three production studios with fifteen sound stages. That far exceeds what any other state has to offer with the giant exception of California, of course; which explains why we're already being called the 'Hollywood of the East.' Of the top ten films at the box office last month, three were 'Made in North Carolina.'

"There is so much we can do to help build a brighter future for North Carolina's small businesses. They have two major problems. One is the vast and complicated array of permits that are required to do business . . . too much red-tape. Another is access to adequate capital.

"Here's what we should do with the red-tape: give them a break, with a One-Stop Permit office that will develop a complete checklist with simplified directions of all the permits and licenses that are needed from all levels of government. Time is money in business, and anything we can do to save time for a business saves money. Now that makes good sense, doesn't it?

"We are establishing such an office in a bipartisan effort to get businesses the information they need quickly, so they can accomplish what they want to do by knowing what is expected of them for compliance with our laws and regulations. We will offer the same special help to counties, to shorten the delays they have encountered with landfill permits. I am establishing an interagency task force to give them quicker, better coordinated, on-site decision-making.

"Your own Task Force on Jobs and Economic Growth has identified a number of areas needing legislation to give us the weapons to win new victories in economic development, especially with existing businesses, and especially in rural areas. I ask you to join with me in a coordinated assault from both our branches of government. Some improvements we can do internally, and some will need your legislative approval. In many ways, the two plans are complementary. That's good.

"Your proposal for a Rural Economic Development Corporation deserves support as an excellent mechanism for giving long-term direction and stimulation for investment in those small cities that can serve as growth centers in rural areas. It avoids setting up an uncoordinated rival that might undermine the main strength of our Commerce Department, and confuse prospective investors as to who negotiates for North Carolina.

"Even in the single, solitary area where we have found some disagreement, I believe we can agree on the goal, and work out our differences. It is not disputed that while many Venture Capital Funds are actively investing in homegrown businesses there is a considerable need for early seed money. The sticking point has to do with the means of solving this need.

"My concern is with the notion of creating a State-funded authority for doling out the money and for choosing the winners who would receive the capital boost. Such a mechanism would always be suspected of political favoritism, and would be unable to function without a typical, governmental overlay of formulas and extraneous, unbusinesslike factors. It would probably find itself unable to replenish its capital from profits, relying instead on never-ending doses of tax dollars. There is a better way: it's called 'free enterprise.'

"Drawing on the expertise of North Carolina investment specialists, we have developed no less than six new financing mechanisms to help increase the availability of both capital and credit for new businesses and expansions, with special emphasis on small business ventures, and with special attention to rural North Carolina. I invite you to work with me to make these innovative ideas into a productive reality:

"1. To increase the availability of fixed-rate, long-term financing for small business;

"2. A secondary market for small business loans under various SBA loan guarantees;

"3. To make Industrial Revenue Bonds more widely accessible to small businesses, especially in rural counties that previously had been left out;

"4. To authorize (but not require) state trust funds to be able to invest in private, investment-quality venture capital funds;

"5. To create a private, early-venture-capital fund, for seed capital in North Carolina, which might include tax credits or similar incentives for investors; and

"6. A statewide '504' Certified Development Corporation to act as loan originator and facilitator in those 48 counties that now lack those services.

FARMING

"No sector of our economy has had to endure a heavier burden longer than our small family farms. The number of farms has been steadily declining for over twenty years, so it is not a recent phenomenon as some have tried to portray it for political purposes. Excessive credit accumulated in the Seventies is now crushing our farmers, and pressure to undermine the tobacco stabilization program has threatened the commodity that once was our number one source of farm income.

"This has been a major focus of attention for me and my administration. Working with Agriculture Commissioner Graham, I have organized a task force of financial institutions to assist farmers in restructuring their credit along more affordable terms.

"Another series of meetings at the executive mansion brought together farm organizations, cigarette manufacturers, bankers and most of our Congressional delegation. Together, we forged an agreement that produced the largest business deal in the history of North Carolina, to buy out the surplus of stockpiled tobacco, and eliminate the oppressive assessment that faced our farmers.

"Together, during the long drought, we mobilized the resources of our State, public and private, for an orderly and fair distribution of donated hay, that had come to us in a magnificent, outpouring example of Neighbors Helping Neighbors.

"By my order, job training programs that had been designed for dislocated factory workers were extended for the first time to dislocated farm workers, as well as to our Vietnam veterans.

"To strengthen the markets for our farm commodities, I am asking you now to establish three innovative Agriculture Parks, one in our Northeastern area, one in our Southeastern counties, and a third at the western farmers market at Asheville. In addition to the more conventional tailgate retail operations, modern food processing services would be available to improve the marketability of our field crops.

"I have commissioned a Task Force on Rural Economic Growth, headed by former Lieutenant Governor Jimmy Green, to work closely with your Rural Economic Development Corporation to develop these and other ideas to renew the agricultural vitality of rural North Carolina.

TRANSPORTATION

"Crucial to our 'Blueprint for Economic Development' is Transportation. Thanks to your adoption of my proposal for major strengthening of our highway construction program (as amended), our major funding commitment is now in place. As soon as the U. S. Congress gets its Highway Act together, we can begin to schedule long awaited improvements in every highway district.

MORE ROADS TO THE FUTURE

"There are a couple of missing pieces that will be submitted for your approval. North Carolina can save time and a great deal of money with a permanent State construction fund, avoiding many of the costly federal requirements for federally matched projects.

"At the same time, local governments need greater authority to identify, protect and/or acquire costly rights-of-way, so that developers can be kept from encroaching with buildings that we later would have to condemn and purchase at great cost.

"These two bits of unfinished business would soon be able to save us fifty-to-sixty million dollars a year, which is already anticipated in our current Transportation Improvement Plan. The Senate passed both measures last year; and I ask you to join with me to complete our 'Roads to the Future.' It means a lot of dollars, and it makes a lot of sense!

FAIR ROADS LAW

"For years our mountain counties have suffered an unfair distribution of secondary road construction. Giving each county the same percentage of secondary road money as its percentage of total unpaved miles shortchanges those in the mountains where road-building costs are naturally much higher. They don't get much mileage out of that. I will ask you to join with me to adopt a fairer formula, a Fair Roads Law, with a bonus provision so that no county will receive less than it gets this year.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS

"Now, let's face up to our weakest record as a State: Public Schools. This is the largest and most important responsibility of State and local governments, and hardly any measurement has earned us satisfaction or pride.

"Our students' performance on standardized tests is falling behind. The dropout rate is embarrassing and unacceptable. We have had great difficulty attracting enough talented teachers to our classrooms, and keeping them there. On this subject, without a doubt, North Carolina 'needs Improvement.'

"Our State must pull together to strengthen our support for public schools. Responsibility for this situation falls not on our schools, but on all of us together; and that means we, the people, must join together to revitalize North Carolina's schools. The Southern Growth Policies Board will report to you tomorrow on its efforts to invigorate schools in all southern states, in the belief we can make our schools competitive with any in America.

"We have made a start. In 1984 and 1985, you made a monumental commitment to strengthening our basic State funding of local schools, through the first two years of the Basic Education Plan. Together, we rallied behind the 16 pilot programs for the Career Ladder concept, to develop for the first time a fair and effective system for evaluating and rewarding good teaching, to provide a way to give promotions to good teachers without their having to leave the classroom . . . to offer 'better pay for better teachers.'

"The budget which I am submitting to you clearly spells out a renewed commitment to public schools as the highest priority for our available resources.

"For the 24 years before my administration, spanning 5 'education governors,' the percentage of the General Fund budgeted for public schools declined every year except two, 1966 and 1984. Even with my tax cut proposals, school spending was increased even as a percentage of the General Fund, and if you will join with me to approve my budget for the next biennium, we will improve it five years, back-to-back.

"It is fitting for you to show pleasure that my budget supports some of your best ideas. And why not? The same bipartisan spirit should earn your support for the bold initiatives in my budget.

BASIC EDUCATION PLAN

"It begins with a giant step forward to add another $375 million to the Basic Education Program over the biennium. That will fully fund your goals for the fourth year of this eight year plan for boosting state financing of public schools by one-third.

"Of vital importance, my proposal will keep us moving steadily forward to reduce classroom size, by hiring the extra teachers needed to lower the critical pupil: teacher ratio. It avoids the suggestion of skipping even one year, for that would break the stride of our momentum, and would miss the full advantage of this year's college graduating talent.

"You will recall my earlier questions related only to the order of priorities within the Basic Education Plan. Its chief virtues have been (1) that it increase in a substantial way our State funding of public schools statewide, and (2) its strong allocation of resources to remedy the conditions that contribute to so high a dropout rate. Yet, even if it were an ideal plan for the average condition of our schools, that would not make it ideal for the typical school, which is not average at all.

LOCAL CONTROL

"Some will need to allocate even more of these resources to countering dropitis, while others may have better than average dropout rates, and might need to allocate more resources for college preparatory work, if that fits their situation better. For such reasons, I propose that you join with me to provide a greater degree of local flexibility.

"Local school boards need to be able to initiate a variance from the standard program, subject to the approval of the State Board of Education. In this way, a major advantage will be won for all our schools by strengthening their local control. It is well established that more effective schools result from a greater degree of local control and local determination of priorities. It just makes sense!

CAREER LADDER

"At the same time, I am proposing that we strengthen our commitment to the Career Development Program, which holds the brightest promise for heightened excellence in education by raising the stature and appeal of classroom teaching as a profession and career.

"The first year of the experimental pilot project did not meet all the goals we had set, but it demonstrated clearly a high degree of success in helping our teachers improve their skills and their effectiveness. Some schools had difficulty with the evaluation methods, particularly if they had little prior experience, but it appears that will be overcome with practice and familiarity, just as with any other academic undertaking.

"I am proposing that we continue with the third and fourth year of the pilot projects in the 16 schools systems that are now in their second year. They have prepared their participating teachers for Career Level I, and a high percentage of them qualified, as expected. This year, these 16 systems are moving forward to prepare for the next promotions to Career Level II, while at the same time making some necessary adjustments in Career I, based on last year's findings.

"To validate the revised first year step of preparing for Career Level I, I propose that we add an additional 12 school systems to initiate the revised procedures from a fresh start. They will have the benefit of the research from the first 16, and will give us a much truer example of the adaptation of new schools to the revised program under more normal (that is, non-experimental) conditions. They will bring a larger, more representative sample of new teachers starting afresh with the revised first year than would be likely among the new candidates available in the original 16 pilot systems. Certainly, they should be allowed more flexibility and a lot less paperwork!

"I am confident that we will have plenty of new school systems eager to become an early part of this bold, new concept offering promotions to outstanding teachers. Indeed, I am concerned that if we prolong the experimental steps without moving forward with the rest of North Carolina, great stress and pressures will build among those schools left behind and unable to offer the enhanced pay and promotions available in the pilot systems. Already, superintendents have told me that their non-pilot schools risk losing their best teachers to neighboring pilot systems, where they can qualify for promotions and better pay.

"For that reason, and because I have full faith and confidence in the ability of our schools and teachers to generate the full potential of this program, I am proposing to begin in the second year of the biennium to move all the remaining 113 school systems into the first year of preparing their participating teachers to quality for Career Level I. That would be the best way to provide another 5% better pay for the 95% or so who would qualify for this promotion. And it would surely break away from the status quo!

"I propose that we go only just that far, withholding until the next budget cycle the decision whether to continue on to Levels II and III. The first 16 pilots will have reached Career Level III, with their highest qualified teachers drawing salaries at that highest level in 1988-89. The 12 additional pilot systems will have completed the demonstration of their adaptation of the first year of preparation for Level I, giving us three full years of experience with that crucial first year of preparation, and I say let's move forward.

"Failure to do so will only risk bogging down what ought to be the most dynamic improvement in our public schools since Governor Charles Brantley Aycock welded the State to public schools at the turn of the century.

"Of course, there are some who would be timid, and wait, and wait, and wait. There are also some who have never wanted this career promotion concept to work, or even to be attempted, and who would argue for delay after delay, until we give up in despair.

"I say: let's go forward. Let's have the courage of our convictions and the total commitment to this major and well conceived reform to strengthen the most strategic educational resource for which we have responsibility: our classroom teachers.

"Of all the good ideas that have been advanced for better schools, none has the tremendous prospect that this Career Ladder has for profoundly improving the output performance of our schools. Nothing will or can do more to raise the scholastic achievement of our elementary and secondary students than this commitment to reinvigorate the profession of classroom teacher.

"Adoption of my budget will dramatically lock North Carolina into the most important boost in public support of public schools in 80 years. That will be our most lasting legacy. Even in a year of mild revenue growth, we will have shown that public schools are clearly our first priority. I call on you to join with me to make it so.

BUILDING SCHOOLS

"There is another monumental responsibility facing us and our schools. We are more than a billion dollars behind in school buildings all across North Carolina. For many years, we have depended upon county governments, with their traditionally limited tax base, to build the schools in our State. Some have done well, with modern facilities to which they can point with pride. Many other counties, however, have lacked the resources to meet their construction needs

"I ask you to join with me to authorize and promote a School Bond issue, on the order of $1.5 billion, the amount to be based on a current survey of county commissions and their school boards. Proceeds from the sale of these bonds would be available to loan to counties at the State's most favorable interest rate, to share with them the advantage of our triple-A bond rating. Counties would pay back to the State over a 20-year period, using the proceeds from their current sales tax already allocated to public schools. In this way, the half-cent sales tax already earmarked for schools or for school debt service could finance as much as $1.5 billion.

"This plan has strong, widespread support, including the state associations of school boards and of county commissioners, and notably the State Treasurer and Superintendent, both of whom made great contributions to this bold and innovative proposal.

"The key to it is the decision you made in recent years to allocate the proceeds from the local option sales tax on a per capita basis, thus providing each county the same revenue base per pupil. You should take credit for that feature.

"It's your call whether to require a separate, local referendum, or you may want to authorize a local vote simultaneously with the statewide issue. State Treasurer Boyles and I believe it's not required by the Constitution, and therefore don't propose it. The main thing is not to let that consideration be an excuse for the status quo.

"This plan will get the job done; and it is affordable. It preserves the historic responsibility of counties for school buildings; yet it assists them in keeping this responsibility affordable. It means that we will be able to build now the schools that we need now, including those required for the expanded programs under the Basic Education Plan. It will be fiscally sound, because we will not risk paying the next future round of inflation, and won't have to wait so long to upgrade our communities, and can pay for the new schools as we go and use them.

"It just makes such good sense, that I invite you and urge you every one to join with me to present to the people for their approval this timely plan to modernize our school buildings at the same time that we modernize the programs and strengthen the teaching that will be offered in them. If we are going to upgrade our educational system to prepare North Carolina for its future, then let us not undercut ourselves. Let us not defeat our own best efforts.

"If you will join with me, together we can assure our people of the best system of public education in America, and assure that every community will have the school facilities to match those programs and to be worthy of those teachers. Then, every county will point with pride.

GOVERNANCE

"This session is also the critical window of opportunity for making the State Superintendent appointive. The reason for doing this is to improve the line of responsibility and accountability. For that reason, if the appointive power is to be given to the State Board of Education, I urge you not to dilute that accountability by eroding the responsibility of the governor to appoint the Board.

FOUR PILLARS

"Here, then, is my proposal for building four strong pillars under education. With your help, it can be done.

PRISONS

"Last year, I recommended to you a major expansion of our prison capacity, coupled with a variety of alternative punishments, such as intensively supervised probation and parole, to reduce the prison population. I wish to commend the legislative leadership for offering to work together with me in a bipartisan front to meet this emergency.

"We have encountered some typical governmental delays, just as in the previous administration, and yet our Corrections Department has developed a number of steps that can help to expedite the facilities we need: metal or concrete buildings that are quicker and cheaper to build are suitable in many applications, and for conventional construction we propose to make repetitious use of a new design that has helped us move swiftly and 'under budget' in meeting the South Piedmont consent decree.

"We are now ready to move forward on those, and have recruited an experienced and professional contractor to 'ride herd' on these projects, so that we will have the benefit of his business skills in driving construction projects to prompt completion.

CAPITAL IMPROVEMENTS

"North Carolina must meet other responsibilities. I am proposing major improvements for our two seaports, construction of a new Judicial Center and a Revenue Building, additional improvements at our college campuses, and $120 million in State and Federal money for a new fund to provide low-interest loans to local governments for water, sewer, and solid waste facilities. Capital improvements of $415 million can be financed primarily through appropriations, and partly ($77.5 million of it) through the 'Two-thirds Bond' authority.

ENVIRONMENT

"Protection of our fragile water resources is among the most vital challenges facing us. Consequently, I am asking for more environmental specialist, to handle the growing backlog of wastewater discharge permits; to monitor and evaluate groundwater quality; to reclassify coastal waters that are unsuited for shellfishing; and to locate leaking, underground storage tanks to be cleaned up. I am also requesting additional funding to improve our State parks.

PAY INCREASE

"Even in a tight budget year, we must not neglect to make some progress in improving pay for State employees. Based on January revenue estimates, I have shown that money is available, after major program improvements, to provide a four-and-a-half percent increase in compensation for school and State employees. Part of this should be devoted to across-the-board scale increases, to offset inflation, and part should be used for a round of performance increments.

"Later on, if revised revenue estimates permit, you may find that an additional increment could be made available, in which case you will find that I would welcome you to outbid me again. Our Office of State Personnel has prepared a new Pay Plan for your consideration, which will greatly improve the equity and the job security of our State workers.

VETO

"The constitutional amendment to provide for the veto was quickly buried in the last session, despite the strong popular support for this historic measure. This issue deserves full debate, and should be submitted to a referendum.

"North Carolina should not continue to be the only state in America where the people have never been allowed to vote on whether to give their governor the veto. How's that for the status quo?!

NON-PARTISAN JUDICIAL ELECTION

"There is also strong sentiment and logic favoring non-partisan election of judges. Let me suggest a useful distinction between trial judges and appellate judges that might help move this issue forward. Trial judges, those before whom you or I might stand in the courtroom, should be elected in their own districts in a non-partisan election, for both District Court and Superior Court judges. The time is ripe to act on that, and all but the most partisan among us should see the virtue of that reform.

"For the Supreme Court and Court of Appeals, I propose that you authorize the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives to join with me in appointing a bipartisan 'Blue Ribbon Committee' of lawyers and non-lawyers to devise a plan for non-partisan election and meritorious selection. Judges on these Appellate Courts are not as well known in the local communities, and voters have so little to go on in the voting booth. This approach makes sense, and might help break the logjam.

"Currently, partisan judicial elections are required by statute, but in truth hardly anyone wants them to be partisan. The people of North Carolina are much more interested, I believe, in having qualified, competent judges sitting on the bench, no matter what their political affiliation. There's a time to study and a time to act. This way, we could study one level while we act on the other before the Federal Courts decide it for us.

ABORTIONS

"In 1985, you approved some restrictions on State funding of elective abortions. Again, I will recommend that we discontinue paying for abortions where the pregnancy is not associated with a felony or a risk of death or serious physical injury to the mother.

WORKFARE

"I am proposing additional increases in the 'Workfare' program, which assists families in breaking out of the cycle of poverty.

LEGISLATIVE REFORMS

"Your leaders are to be commended for proposing reforms in the legislative process. In a spirit of harmony, I will simply say that anything you can do to open up the process . . . so that the public, the press, even the loyal opposition can examine legislation before it is voted on . . . will strike a blow for good government.

UNIFYING THEMES

"There are other such topics on which there may be dissension, and which ultimately will yield to majority wisdom. I will not parade them all out this evening. It has been my intention here mainly to emphasize those subjects on which there is a great potential for bipartisan agreement.

"Those unifying themes need our strong support, and will take us further along on our journey toward the vision we share for North Carolina. North Carolina's future depends upon us, and upon our ability to overcome our differences and unite our efforts to build the brightest future for our people.

'YEAR OF THE READER'

"Each year, I have directed my administration to devote special emphasis to one unifying theme for the year. The 'YEAR OF THE CHILD' in 1985 built upon a number of children's issues, including the Missing Children's Center, culminating in the hearings and report of the Governor's Commission on Child Victimization, chaired by our First Lady, and the creation of the North Carolina Fund for Children and Families.

"The 'Year of the Family,' 1986, keyed many departmental programs to ways to strengthen the family as a self-supportive unit. Special attention was directed at innovations for breaking the cycle of poverty.

"What special direction should we set for 1987? I propose that together we make this the 'YEAR OF THE READER,' and pledge our special emphasis to the rescue of so many of our citizens from the anemia of functional illiteracy. Our Community Colleges have pioneered a strong remedial reading program offered in Adult Basic Education, yet it reaches no more that 6% of the potential population.

"The State Library is working with the Department of Corrections to develop a remedial reading program for women inmates, especially those with children. Called 'MOTHEREAD,' it will allow them to visit with and read to their children on weekends outside the prison, and we believe this will present a powerful motivation for learning to read.

"At the same time, it is troubling that our schools are turning out a fresh crop of dropouts every year, to replenish the supply of illiterates faster than we can save them. Many of our school systems have made a special effort to reduce their dropout rates, some with notable success, such as Weldon, Pender, Currituck, Hertford, Pamlico, Mooresville, and Granville. Their results need to be emulated all across North Carolina. Already, 60 Literacy Councils have been organized locally.

"Burlington Mills has a reading program for employees and their children. Charlotte businesses helped pioneer the exciting 'CITIES IN SCHOOLS' program which other business leaders are planning to extend to Rocky Mount and two or three other cities.

"One key to this will be how well we involve the strength of the people, by calling on them for help as tutors, in that same volunteer spirit that has made North Carolina great.

"To pull all this together in a coordinated assault on illiteracy, I will ask the heads of these and other pertinent agencies and groups to serve on a new North Carolina Literacy Council, and I have asked former UNC President Bill Friday to serve as its first chairman. We must mount a sustained, nonpartisan effort if we are to succeed.

"Preparation for our challenging and bright future depends upon a population of workers who are trained and trainable; who can read; who can read to learn because they have learned to read. What a tremendous challenge for North Carolina! Surely, you remember the national thrill that responded to President Kennedy's exciting call to greatness when he said, 'We are going to the moon!' It was an enormously difficult task, but America did it. A courageous few Americans actually made it: 'One giant step' for precious few of us.

"Would it not be a reachable and exciting goal for us to say: 'We are going . . . to read!' Could we make that simple challenge into a mighty and dedicated undertaking, but one which would seek to take all of our people along on the mission . . . to become readers?

"If we fail, North Carolina will suffer more generations of inadequately prepared workers. And yet, if we succeed, it would truly be one giant step for a million of us. It is one of the most worthy objectives we could set for our State. I ask you to join with me to direct our minds and energies to solving this problem. Together, we can chart our course, and boldly proclaim on behalf of everyone in this one United State: 'WE ARE GOING TO READ . . . ALL OF US! WE ARE GOING TO LEARN TO READ!'

"Thank you. And generations yet to come will THANK YOU.

'NORTH CAROLINA IS MY HOME'

"In one of the most remarkable collaborative contributions to our contemporary culture, two brilliant North Carolina native sons, Charles Kuralt and Loonis McGlohon, have composed a splendid musical tribute, entitled, 'North Carolina Is My Home!' In its lyrics and in its melodies and rhythms, it captures the heritage and the natural splendor of this magnificent land of ours, its waters, its mountains, its cities and towns; and most of all, its people.

"With a reverence for North Carolina, they have distilled the essence of a State 'where the weak grow strong, and the strong grow great.' They have used their considerable talents so effectively to remind us of who we are, and where we have come from. Along with a humorous counterpoint about how we named some of our places, they have reminded us, too, of how we named our noblest aspirations with a pledge to integrity in our State's Motto: Esse Quam Videri, 'To be rather than to seem.'

"North Carolina is our home. We are truly blessed with all that North Carolina has to offer. A large part of that is a God-given natural resource . . . ours to enjoy and protect. A good part of it can be said to be a God-given human resource. That, too, is ours to enjoy, but also ours to build for future generations. We must make the most of our time and opportunities here. We must join together as representatives of this 'one united State' to build that home.

"There will always be issues and causes that divide us. There will be rivalries and the usual kinds of suspicions that one team has for another. There is, surely then, a time for partisanship, as when we compete for electoral trust and favor. That's healthy. Yet, there is just as surely a time for bipartisanship, when we must set aside partisanship to unite for the good of all of North Carolina.

"Such a time is now; and the goals and objectives which I have addressed with you this evening are surely the issues around which we ought to unite. Education, transportation and vocation: schools for the future, roads to the future, and jobs of the future. Join with me, then, and let us build together those schools, those highways, those jobs, and that future . . for what must become increasingly: one truly United State."

RULE 8. Questions of Privilege.--Upon recognition by the Speaker for that purpose, any member may speak to a question of privilege for a time not to exceed three minutes. Questions of privilege shall be, first those affecting the rights of the House collectively, its safety, dignity, and the integrity of its proceedings; second, the rights, reputation, and conduct of members, individually, in their representative capacity only; and shall have precedence of all other questions, except motions to adjourn. Privilege may not be used to explain a vote or debate a bill. The Speaker shall determine if the question is one of privilege and shall, without the point of order being raised, enforce this rule.

RULE 9. Points of Order.--(a) The Speaker shall decide questions of order and may speak to points of order in preference to other members arising from their seats for that purpose. Any member may appeal from the ruling of the Chair on questions of order; on such appeal no member may speak more than once, unless by leave of the House. A two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present shall be necessary to sustain any appeal from the ruling of the Chair.

(b) When the Speaker calls a member to order, the member shall take his seat except that a member called to order may clear a matter of fact, or explain, but shall not proceed in debate so long as the decision stands. If the member appeals from the ruling of the Chair and the decision by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present be in favor of the member called to order, he may proceed; if otherwise, he shall not; and if the case, in the judgment of the House, requires it, he shall be liable to censure by the House.

RULE 10. Limitations on Debate.--(a) No member shall speak on, debate, or solicit cosponsors for, a bill or resolution at its first reading.

(b) No member shall speak more than twice on the main question, nor longer than 30 minutes for the first speech and 15 minutes for the second speech; nor shall he speak more than twice upon an amendment or motion to reconsider, commit, appeal or postpone, and then not longer than 10 minutes for the first speech and five minutes for the second speech.

(c) A member may speak only once and for not more than 20 minutes on the question of the adoption of a minority report.

(d) The House, by consent of a majority of the members present, may suspend the operation of subsections (b) and (c) of this rule during any debate on any particular question before the House.

RULE 11. Reading of Papers.--When there is a call for the reading of the text of a paper which has been presented to the House, and there is objection to such reading, the question shall be determined by a majority vote of the members of the House present. Except for protests permitted by the Constitution, no member may have material printed in the Journal until said material has been presented to the House and the printing approved by the House, and said material shall not exceed 1,000 words.

RULE 12. General Decorum.--(a) The Speaker shall preserve order and decorum.

(b) Decency of speech shall be observed and disrespect to personalities carefully avoided.

(c) When the Speaker is putting any question, or addressing the House, no person shall speak, stand up, walk out of or cross the House, nor when a member is speaking, engage in disruptive discourse or pass between the member and the Chair.

(d) Food or beverages shall not be permitted on the floor of the House.

(e) The reading of newspapers shall not be permitted on the floor of the House while the House is in session.

(f) Smoking or the consumption of food or beverages shall not be permitted in the galleries at any time.

(g) Special recitals, performances by musicians or other groups shall not be permitted on the floor of the House and special guests of members of the House shall not be permitted on the floor of the House.

(h) Members shall observe appropriate attire, coat and tie for male members and dignified dress for female members.

III. MOTIONS

RULE 13. Motions Generally.--(a) Every motion shall be reduced to writing, if the Speaker or any two members request it.

(b) When a motion is made, it shall be stated by the Speaker, or, if written, it shall be handed to the Chair and read aloud by the Speaker or Clerk before debate.

(c) After a motion has been stated by the Speaker or read by the Speaker or Clerk, it shall be in the possession of the House; but it may be withdrawn before a decision or amendment, except in case of a motion to reconsider, which motion, when made by a member, shall be in possession of the House and shall not be withdrawn without leave of the House.

RULE 14. Motions, Order of Precedence.-- When there are motions before the House, the order of precedence is as follows:

To adjourn
To lay on the table
To postpone indefinitely
To reconsider
Previous question
To postpone to a day certain
To re-refer
To amend an amendment
To amend
To substitute

To pass the bill

No motion to lay on the table, to postpone indefinitely, to postpone to a day certain, to commit or to make a particular amendment, being decided, shall be again allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition.

RULE 15. Motion to Adjourn.--(a) A motion to adjourn shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House.

(b) A motion to adjourn shall be decided without debate, and shall always be in order, except when the House is voting or some member is speaking; but a motion to adjourn shall not follow a motion to adjourn until debate or some other business of the House has intervened.

RULE 16. Motion to Table.--(a) A motion to table shall be seconded before the motion is put to the vote of the House and is in order except when a motion to adjourn is before the House.

(b) A motion to table shall be decided without debate.

(c) A motion to table a bill shall constitute a motion to table the bill and all amendments thereto.

(d) When the question before the House is the adoption of an amendment to a bill or resolution, a motion to table the bill is not in order, and a motion to table an amendment applies to the amendment only, and the motion may not expressly or by implication or construction be expanded to include a motion to table the bill also.

(e) When a question has been tabled, it shall not thereafter be considered except on motion to reconsider under Rule 18, or to remove from the table approved by a two- thirds (2/3) vote.

RULE 17. Motion to Postpone Indefinitely.-- A motion to postpone indefinitely is in order except when a motion to adjourn or to lay on the table is before the House. However, after one motion to postpone indefinitely has been decided, another motion to postpone indefinitely shall not be allowed at the same stage of the bill or proposition. When a question has been postponed indefinitely, it shall not thereafter be considered except on motion to reconsider under Rule 18, or to place on the favorable calendar approved by a two-thirds (2/3) vote.

RULE 18. Motion to Reconsider.--(a) When a question has been decided, it is in order for any member to move for the reconsideration thereof, on the same or the succeeding legislative day; provided that if the vote by which the motion was originally decided was taken by a recorded vote, only a member of the prevailing side may move for reconsideration.

(b) A motion to reconsider shall be determined by a majority vote, except a motion to reconsider a vote upon a motion to table, a motion to postpone indefinitely, a motion to remove a bill from the unfavorable calendar, a motion that a bill be read twice on the same day, or a motion to remove from the table, which shall require a two-thirds (2/3) vote.

RULE 19. Previous Question.--(a) The previous question may be called only by the member submitting the report on the bill or other matter under consideration, by the member introducing the bill or other matter under consideration, or by the member in charge of the measure, who shall be designated by the Chairman of the committee reporting the same to the House at the time the bill or other matter under consideration is reported to the House or taken up for consideration.

(b) The previous question shall be as follows: "Shall the main question now be put?" When the call for the previous question has been decided in the affirmative by a majority vote of the House, the "main question" is on the passage of the bill, resolution or other matter under consideration.

(c) The call for the previous question shall preclude all motions, amendments and debate, except the motion to adjourn or motion to table or motion to postpone indefinitely made prior to the determination of the previous question.

(d) If the previous question is decided in the negative, the main question remains under debate.

IV. VOTING

RULE 20. Use of Electronic Voting System.--(a) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system, and the ayes and noes shall be recorded on the Journal:

(1) All questions on which the Constitution of North Carolina requires that the ayes and noes be taken and recorded on the Journal.
(2) All measures affecting a fee imposed by the State or any subdivision thereof.
(3) All questions on which a call for the ayes and noes under Rule 24(a) has been sustained.
(4) Both second and third readings of bills proposing amendment of the Constitution of North Carolina or ratifying resolutions amending the Constitution of the United States.

(b) Votes on the following questions shall be taken on the electronic voting system:

(1) Second reading of all public bills, all amendments to public bills offered after second reading, third reading if a public bill was amended after second reading or if the reading occurs on a day or days following the second reading, all conference reports on public bills, all motions to lay public bills on the table, and all motions to postpone public bills indefinitely.
(2) Upon a call for division.
(3) Any other question upon direction of the Speaker or upon motion of any member supported by one-fifth (1/5) of the members present.

(c) When the electronic voting system is used, twenty seconds shall be allowed for voting on the question before the House, unless the Chair shall direct otherwise. The system shall be set to close automatically when that time has expired. Once the system is locked, the vote shall be recorded and printed.

(d) The voting station at each member's desk in the Chamber shall be used only by the member to which the station is assigned. Under no circumstances shall any other person vote at a member's station. It is a breach of the ethical obligation of a member either to request that another person vote at the requesting member's station, or to vote at another member's station. The Speaker shall enforce this rule without exception.

(e) When the electronic voting system is used, the Speaker shall state the question and shall then state substantially the following: "All in favor vote 'aye'; all opposed vote 'no'; the Clerk will open the vote." In order to have the vote recorded, the member must vote by the electronic voting system within the time allowed for that vote, unless the voting station assigned to a member is malfunctioning. The Speaker shall enforce this rule without exception. After the allotted time for voting has elapsed, the Speaker shall say: "The Clerk will now lock the machine and record the vote." After the machine is locked and the vote recorded, the Speaker shall announce the vote and declare the result.

(f) One copy of the machine printout of the vote record of all votes taken on the electronic system shall be filed in the office of the Principal Clerk, and one copy shall be filed in the Legislative Library where it shall be open to public inspection.

(g) When the Speaker ascertains that the electronic voting system is inoperative before a vote is taken or while a vote is being taken on the electronic system, he shall announce that fact to the House and any partial electronic system voting record shall be voided. In such a case, if the Constitution of North Carolina or the Rules of the House require a call of the ayes and noes, the Clerk shall call the roll of the House, and the ayes and noes shall be taken manually and shall be recorded on the Journal. All roll call votes shall be taken alphabetically. All other votes shall be taken by voice vote. If, after a vote is taken on the electronic system, it is discovered that a malfunction caused an error in the electronic system printout, the Speaker shall direct the Reading Clerk and the Principal Clerk to verify and correct the printout record and so advise the House.

(h) For the purpose of identifying motions on which the vote is taken on the electronic system, the motions are coded as follows:

1. To adjourn
2. To lay on the table
3. To postpone indefinitely
4. Previous question
5. To postpone to a day certain
6. To re-refer
7. To amend an amendment

8. To amend

RULE 21. Voice Votes; Stating Questions.--(a) When the electronic voting system is not used, the Speaker shall rise and put a question.

(b) The question shall be put in this form, namely, "Those in favor (as the question may be) will say 'Aye'," and after the affirmation voice has been expressed, "Those opposed will say 'No'".

RULE 22. Determining Questions.--(a) Unless otherwise provided by the Constitution of North Carolina or by these rules, all questions shall be determined by a simple majority of the members present and voting.

(b) No member may vote unless he is in the chamber when the question is put. This subsection of this rule cannot be suspended.

RULE 23. Voting by Division.--Any member may call for a division of the members upon the question before the result of the vote has been announced. Upon a call for a division, the Speaker shall cause the number voting in the affirmative and in the negative to be determined. Upon a division and count of the House on any question, no member away from his seat shall be counted.

RULE 24. Roll Call Vote.--(a) Before a question is put, any member may call for the ayes and noes. If the call is sustained by one-fifth (1/5) of the members present, the question shall be decided by the ayes and noes upon a roll call vote.

(b) Every member who is in the Hall of the House when the question is put shall vote upon a call of the ayes and noes, unless excused pursuant to Rule 24.1A.

RULE 24.1A. Excuse From Deliberations and Voting on a Bill.--(a) Any member shall upon request be excused from the deliberations and voting on a particular bill, but to do so must make that request after the second reading of the bill and before any motion or vote on the bill or any amendment thereto. If the reason for the request arises at some point later in the proceedings, the request may be made at that time.

(b) The member may make a brief statement of the reasons for making that request. The member may send forward to the Principal Clerk, on a form provided by the Clerk, a concise statement of the reason for the request, and the Clerk shall include this statement in the Journal.

(c) The member so excused shall not debate the bill or any amendment to the bill, vote on the bill, offer or vote on any amendment to the bill, or offer or vote on any motion concerning the bill at that reading, any subsequent reading, or any subsequent consideration of the bill.

(d) A member may request that his excuse from deliberations on a particular bill be withdrawn.

RULE 24.1B. Division of Amendments.--Any member may call for an amendment to be divided into two or more amendments to be voted on separately, and the Speaker shall determine whether the amendment admits of such a division.

RULE 25. Voting by Speaker.--In all elections the Speaker may vote. In all other instances he may exercise his right to vote, or he may reserve this right until there is a tie in which event he may vote, but in no instance may he vote twice on the same question.

V. COMMITTEES

RULE 26. Committees Generally.--(a) All standing and select committees shall be appointed by the Speaker. The Speaker shall appoint all standing committees at the beginning of the session or, in the case of a newly-created committee, within 10 days of its creation.

(b) Ten days after the Speaker makes his initial appointments to a standing or select committee, he shall not increase the membership of that committee, but may fill any vacancies which occur on that committee.

(c) The first member announced on each committee shall be Chairman, and where the Speaker so desires he may designate a cochairman and one or more vice-chairmen.

RULE 41. Reading of Bills.--(a) Every bill shall receive three readings in the House prior to its passage. The first reading and reference to committee of a House bill shall occur on the next legislative day following its introduction. The first reading and reference to committee of a Senate bill shall occur on the next legislative day following its receipt on messages from the Senate. The Speaker shall give notice at each subsequent reading whether it be the second or third reading.

(c) No public bill or resolution filed in either house during the first year of the regular session after May 21, shall pass either its second or third readings unless voted on affirmatively by two-thirds (2/3) of the members present and voting. This subsection shall not apply to a bill or resolution proposing adjournment, an emergency appropriation, continuance and/or expansion of the State budget, or changing State revenues; proposing or ratifying a constitutional amendment; or calling for a constitutional convention; or to bills authorized for introduction during the reconvened session under the resolution adjourning the session held during the first year of the biennium.

1. been tabled,
2. been postponed indefinitely,
3. failed to pass on any of its readings, or
4. been placed on the unfavorable calendar, the contents of that bill or the principal provisions of its subject matter shall not be considered in any other measure originating in the Senate or originating thereafter in the House. Upon the point of order being raised and sustained by the Chair, that measure shall be laid upon the table, and shall not be taken therefrom except by a two-thirds (2/3) vote of the members present and voting.

Only one principal (first degree) amendment shall be pending at any one time. If a subs=equent or substitute principal amendment shall be offered, the Speaker shall rule it out of order. However, any member desiring to offer a subsequent or substitute principal amendment in opposition to the pending amendment may inform the House by way of argument against the pending amendment that if it is defeated he proposes to offer another principal amendment, and he may then read and explain such proposed amendment.

Perfecting (or second degree) amendments may be offered and considered without limitation as to number, and in the event of multiple perfecting amendments, they shall be voted upon in inverse order.

If the committee substitute was referred to committee, the committee shall:

i. report the bill with the recommendation either that the House concur or that the House do not concur; and

ii. advise the Speaker as to whether or not that committee substitute is a material amendment under Article II, Section 23, of the State's Constitution.

(d) If the committee substitute for a bill is not a material amendment, the question before the House shall be concurrence.

(e) If the committee substitute for a bill is a material amendment, the receiving of that bill on messages shall constitute first reading and the question before the House shall be concurrence on second reading. If the motion is passed, the question then shall be concurrence on third reading on the next legislative day.

(f) No committee substitute adopted by the Senate to a bill originating in the House may be amended by the House.

RULE 44. Conference Committees.--(a) Whenever the House shall decline or refuse to concur in amendments put by the Senate to a bill originating in the House, or shall refuse to concur in a substitute adopted by the Senate for a bill originating in the House or whenever the Senate shall decline or refuse to concur in amendments put by the House to a bill originating in the Senate, or shall refuse to concur in a substitute adopted by the House for a bill originating in the Senate, a conference committee may be appointed by the Speaker upon his own motion or shall be appointed upon request by the principal sponsor of the original bill, the Chairman of the House Committee which reported the bill, or by the sponsor of the amendment in which the Senate refused to concur; and the bill under consideration shall thereupon go to and be considered by the joint conferees on the part of the House and Senate. In appointing members to conference committees the Speaker shall appoint no less than a majority of members who generally supported the House position as determined by the Speaker.

(b) Only such matters as are in difference between the two houses shall be considered by the conferees, and the conference report shall deal only with such matters. The conference report may be made by a majority of the House members of such conference committee and shall not be amended.

(c) If the conferees fail to agree, new conferees may be appointed. However, if either house refuses to adopt the report of its conferees, no new conferees may be appointed.

H. R. 31, A HOUSE RESOLUTION URGING CONGRESS TO ENACT LEGISLATION TO END THE UNFAIR EXEMPTION OF OUT-OF-STATE DIRECT MARKET BUSINESSES FROM SALES TAX LAWS.

Whereas, sales and use taxes generate a significant amount of revenue for the State and for local governments; and

Whereas, out-of-State direct market and border sales are effectively exempt from sales and use tax because of a 1967 United States Supreme Court case holding that businesses are not required to collect the tax on such sales; and

Whereas, mail order and other out-of-State sales are increasing rapidly and are expected to account for twenty percent (20%) of the retail market by 1990; and

Whereas, State and local governments lost as much as one billion five hundred million dollars ($1,500,000,000) in uncollected taxes in 1985 due to direct market and border sales; and

Whereas, such revenue losses may lead to higher sales tax rates as the increasing popularity of mail order sales erodes the sales tax base; and

Whereas, studies show that for every one percent (1%) increase in State or local sales tax traditional businesses lose six percent (6%) in retail sales; and

Whereas, untaxed sales pose unfair competition to traditional, tax collecting retail stores in North Carolina; and

Whereas, sales losses for in-State retail stores threaten employment opportunities; and

Whereas, legislation has been introduced in Congress this year to require retailers who regularly solicit customers in other states to collect sales tax from those customers; and

Whereas, if enacted, this legislation would not burden small businesses because they would be exempt from the collection requirements if their sales were below a certain threshold; and

Whereas, this legislation would benefit the State, local governments, and North Carolina businesses:

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

Section 1. The House of Representatives of North Carolina endorses the legislation introduced in Congress to require out-of-State retailers to collect sales tax and urges Congress to enact similar legislation to end two decades of State revenue losses and unfairness to traditional retailers.

Sec. 2. The Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall forward a copy of this resolution to each member of the North Carolina Congressional Delegation.

Sec. 3. This resolution is effective upon adoption.

H. R. 1245, A HOUSE RESOLUTION MEMORIALIZING THE CONGRESS TO PERSUADE THE UNITED STATES ENVIRONMENTAL PROTECTION AGENCY TO ESTABLISH A REASONABLE WATER DISCHARGE PERMIT FOR THE CANTON MILL IN HAYWOOD COUNTY.

Whereas, Champion International Corporation has made a significant impact on Haywood County's economy for many years, distributing over one hundred eighty million dollars ($180,000,000) in wages, employee benefits, taxes, and in the purchase of wood, goods, and services in 1986; and

Whereas, the closure of Champion International's Canton Mill in Haywood County, would not only cause economic hardship for the community and western North Carolina, but also force 2,247 employees to lose their jobs; and

Whereas, the United States Environmental Protection Agency has imposed extremely strict color limitations on water discharges for Canton Mill and will force the facility to close if Champion International does not comply with the guidelines; and

Whereas, Champion International has taken considerable steps to ensure the reduction of water and air discharges and over the years, has spent in excess of seventy million dollars ($70,000,000) on such reductions; and

Whereas, existing technologies do not allow Champion International to comply with such limitations; and

Whereas, the House of Representatives of North Carolina wishes to persuade Congress to help keep Canton Mill in Haywood County;

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

Section 1. The House of Representatives of North Carolina memorializes the Congress to persuade the United States Environmental Protection Agency to be reasonable in negotiating and establishing a practical, feasible water discharge permit for the Champion International Corporation's North Carolina Canton Mill.

Sec. 2. The Secretary of State shall transmit a certified copy of this resolution to the North Carolina Congressional delegation.

Sec. 3. This resolution is effective upon adoption.

H.R. 2155, A HOUSE RESOLUTION TO ESTABLISH THE PROCEDURE FOR NOMINATING AND ELECTING MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF GOVERNORS OF THE UNIVERSITY OF NORTH CAROLINA.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

Section 1. The following procedures for nominating and electing members of the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina are adopted:

I. COMMITTEE RESPONSIBILITIES.

1. It is the duty of the University Board of Governors Nominating Committee of the House of Representatives (hereinafter referred to as "the House Committee") to choose at least two nominees for each opening in each category of seats on the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina to which the House of Representatives is to elect members.

2. The House of Representatives shall vote only upon those nominees in the four-year at-large category chosen by the House Committee or proposed as nominees from the floor of the joint session of the Senate and House of Representatives.

3. The House Committee shall receive suggestions of proposed candidates for nomination for election to the University Board of Governors through June 17, 1987. Any person proposed in writing by any member of the House of Representatives to the Chairman of the House Committee shall be considered as a candidate for nomination by the House Committee.

4. After June 17, 1987, the House Committee shall meet and receive from members of the Committee formal proposals of candidates for nomination. A committee member may propose candidates for nomination only for the categories available for election by the House of Representatives.

5. The House Committee shall screen the proposed candidates for nomination proposed to it as to their qualifications and background and may interview each one to make sure that suitable persons are nominated for each category and that each candidate for nomination is willing and able to serve and has no statutory disability.

6. A Representative may propose as candidates for nomination only as many persons as there are places to be filled by the House. When the proposing process is closed, the House Committee shall list all proposed candidates for nomination by category. The House Committee shall vote to determine whether each person proposed shall be placed on the House ballot as a "Recommended Nominee" or a "Nominee." A majority vote of the members of the House Committee who are present and voting shall constitute one a "Recommended Nominee" or a "Nominee," as the Committee shall determine. An individual cannot be a candidate for nomination or be nominated in more than one category.

7. House Committee nominees shall be placed before and recommended to a joint session of the House of Representatives and Senate.

II. JOINT SESSION--SELECTION OF NOMINEES.

1. The Senate and House of Representatives shall meet in joint session at 1:30 p.m. on July 1, 1987, for the purpose of nominating persons for election to the Board of Governors of The University of North Carolina. In the joint session of the Senate and House of Representatives, committee nominations shall be made first and then the floor shall be opened for the nomination by any Senator or Representative of persons for election to the Board of Governors. Nominees shall be grouped into the following categories, as required by G.S. 116-6:

(1) Women nominees for four-year term,
(2) Minority race nominees for four-year term,
(3) Minority party nominees for four-year term,
(4) At-large nominees for four-year term, Senate,
(5) At-large nominees for four-year term, House of Representatives.

Notwithstanding any provision herein, any person may be nominated in either category 4 or 5 above so long as his name does not appear in more than one category.

2. In proposing a nominee, the nominator shall state the category for which the nominee is being proposed. An individual cannot be proposed in more than one category.

3. In the joint session, a Representative may nominate only as many persons as there are positions to be filled in each category.

4. Names shall continue to be received until the number of nominees in each category is at least twice the number of places to be filled, that is, there shall be nominated a minimum of two women, two Republicans, two racial minority members, six at-large nominees (Senate), and four at-large nominees (House of Representatives), all for four-year terms.

5. No vote shall be taken on the nominees in the joint session. When the names of all nominees have been received, the joint session shall be dissolved.

6. The Chairman of the House Committee shall contact all nominees for election by the House of Representatives and ascertain whether they would serve if elected. Any nominee may withdraw his name without the approval of the person who proposed his name. If withdrawals reduce the number of nominees below twice the number of places to be filled in any category, another joint session of the Senate and House shall be held to receive sufficient additional nominations in that category.

III. ELECTIONS IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

1. A list of nominees shall be prepared under the supervision of the Chairman of the House Committee for the information of the House of Representatives.

2. The list shall include only the names of those nominees proposed by the House Committee who have consented to run and those nominees proposed from the floor in the joint session who have consented to run and for whom the House is entitled to vote. Their names shall be arranged (a) by category and (b) within each category, alphabetically by surname. Each person whose name appears on the list shall be thereon designated as a "Recommended Nominee" or "Nominee", as the House Committee shall have determined.

3. The House of Representatives shall hold its election immediately after being notified by Special Messenger that the Senate has completed its election. Before the voting begins, the Speaker of the House of Representatives shall explain the voting rules, which are:

(i) No nomination shall be received from the floor.
(ii) In order to be chosen, a nominee must receive the votes of a majority of all members present and voting for his category.
(iii) Each member present and voting shall vote for as many nominees as there are positions to be filled in each category.
(iv) When a member for a category containing a single position is to be chosen and no nominee receives a majority of the votes cast for all the nominees in that category, a runoff shall be conducted between the person receiving the highest and the person receiving the second highest number of votes cast.
(v) When fewer than two nominees in the four-year at-large category receive the votes of a majority of all members present and voting for positions in that category, a runoff to fill the open position or positions shall be conducted among the nominees receiving the highest number of votes cast, and the number of nominees eligible to be voted on in the runoff shall be twice the number of positions to be filled. (For the purpose of illustration, if when the first ballot is taken, no nominee receives a majority, then the top four vote-getters will be in the runoff, because there must be twice the number of persons in the runoff that there are positions to be filled and the House has two such positions to fill. If one person receives the votes of a majority of all members present and voting for that category, then he is elected and a runoff will be held among the two next highest vote-getters. This is so because there is one position remaining to be filled and there must be twice the number of nominees in the runoff that there are positions available, therefore two.)

(vi) If there is a tie for the last position between two nominees who are eligible for the next runoff, both nominees shall be included in the next runoff, even though there would thereby be more than two nominees per available position on the Board of Governors.

(vii) When more than two nominees in the four-year at-large category receive the votes of a majority of all members present and voting for positions in that category, then the two nominees receiving the highest number of votes shall be deemed to have been chosen.

4. The members of the House of Representatives shall proceed to vote by roll-call for the following:

Two persons in the at-large category for four-year terms,

One person in the minority party category for a four-year term, and

One person in the woman's category for a four-year term.

5. The Chairman of the House Committee shall be responsible for canvassing the vote and declaring the results thereof.

6. When the Chairman of the House Committee has determined that the House of Representatives has chosen two members of the Board of Governors from the at-large category for a term of four years, one member of the Board of Governors from the minority race category for a term of four years, and one person in the woman's category for a term of four years, the Speaker of the House shall declare those four persons to have been elected by the House of Representatives to the indicated positions and for the indicated terms.

7. The results of the election in the House of Representatives shall then be sent by Special Messenger to the Senate.

IV. NOTIFICATION OF ELECTION RESULTS.

When the election process is complete, the Chairman of the House Committee shall notify the Secretary of the Board of Governors of the University of North Carolina of the names of the persons elected by the House of Representatives and the category for which and term for which each of them was elected.

Sec. 2. This resolution is effective upon adoption.

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

Section 1. The House of Representatives of North Carolina honors the life of C. B. Kane and his almost 50 years of continuous service to the Winston-Salem Rescue Squad, Incorporated, and recognizes the week of October 18-24, 1987, Rescue Week, in honor of the outstanding efforts and the life-saving services that are provided for the citizens of North Carolina by volunteer rescue squads in the State.

Sec. 2. This resolution is effective upon adoption.

H.R. 2163, A HOUSE RESOLUTION HONORING THE CITY OF HICKORY, NORTH CAROLINA'S ALL AMERICA CITY.

Whereas, Hickory is located on the Catawba River in the foothills of the Blue Ridge Mountains of Western North Carolina; and

Whereas, Hickory has a population of 25,000 and is the center of a recently recognized metropolitan area with 280,000 residents; and

Whereas, Hickory is the service, financial, employment, and cultural hub of this area with a strong tradition of volunteerism exemplified by citizens confronting and solving the City's problems; and

Whereas, the increased number of retired citizens in Hickory has resulted in senior adult groups and civic organizations to establish Adult Life Programs, a day care which allows more elderly people to continue living in their own homes; and

Whereas, to meet the need for better housing in Hickory, a group of minority churches formed Inter-Faith Housing, a non-profit corporation, which has renovated derelict rental housing and is now developing a home ownership program; and

Whereas, since April 1985, over 230 local citizens have been involved in the Catawba County Foresight Project and the Hickory Horizons Project, the result of local government's ambition to learn how the public and private sectors could work together to improve Hickory's local economy, enhance its quality of life and overcome local liabilities which might cause serious problems in the City's future; and

Whereas, the City and County governments began by appointing small task forces of local leaders and provided professional facilitators to assist the groups to study and identify the most critical issues; and

Whereas, as a result, subcommittees of 35 or more citizens tackled the job of developing goals and recommendations to address the key areas, including education, government services and finance, economic development, transportation, and housing and urban design; and

Whereas, the City of Hickory went beyond its borders to invite participation from concerned citizens in neighboring towns, suburbs and counties and this cooperative spirit produced commercial development efforts to achieve the goal of diversifying the local economy; joint water and sewer plans to avoid duplication of services; an innovative trust fund to secure the rights-of-way needed for future streets and highways; and a project to revise its land use ordinances; and

Whereas, this endeavor had a significant impact on the community, bringing forth the largest number of citizens in the history of the City of Hickory to have been directly involved in local government, and who will continue to monitor the progress of their recommendations for community betterment, and work to maintain the cooperative effort required to produce a keen awareness of the need for all citizens to work together to realize their maximum potential as a community; and

Whereas, recognizing that the City of Hickory's cultural arts organizations had outgrown their facilities, the Arts Center of Catawba Valley and the United Arts Fund joined together in 1982, to restore the old city high school, which had been abandoned for 10 years, into an arts center with larger and more modern quarters; and

Whereas, a campaign to "support the work of art" began in 1984 with a challenge grant from a local industrialist, which would be applied to future operations if the community raised the money needed for capital improvements and the results were outstanding; and

Whereas, within four months, two million four hundred thousand dollars ($2,400,000) had been raised with a contribution of over one hundred sixty thousand dollars ($160,000) from the old high school's alumni and the campaign ultimately reached two million eight hundred thousand dollars ($2,800,000) with ninety-seven percent (97%) coming from the private sector; and

Whereas, due to preservation efforts to restore the old high school, the Arts Center received the 1986 Gertrude Carraway Award from the Historic Preservation Foundation of North Carolina; and

Whereas, the Arts Center, with an average weekly attendance of 1,000 people, is now the home of the Hickory Museum of Art and its gift shop, the Catawba Science Center and its emporium, the Hickory Choral Society, the Western Piedmont Symphony, and the Catawba County Council for the Arts as well as exhibit space for the Catawba County Historical Association; and

Whereas, the Arts Center not only provides space for the arts to grow, but also offers a focal point for involving more of the community in cultural activities and makes the arts accessible to every segment of the community and its citizens; and

Whereas, due to the outstanding efforts made by the citizens of this community, the City of Hickory was named an "All America City";

Now, therefore, be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

Section 1. The House of Representatives wishes to pay tribute to the City of Hickory for its achievement in being named an "All America City" and expresses its pride in the cooperative efforts of the City's citizens to provide the City of Hickory and the State of North Carolina with such an honor.

Sec. 2. The House of Representatives wishes to honor the memory of Henry Weidner, who founded the Hickory Tavern, which later became the City of Hickory.

Sec. 3. The Principal Clerk of the House of Representatives shall transmit a certified copy of this resolution to the City of Hickory.

Sec. 4. This resolution is effective upon adoption.

H.R. 2166, A HOUSE RESOLUTION EXPRESSING THE SENSE OF THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES CONCERNING CHAPTER 480, SESSION LAWS OF 1987, ENGLISH AS THE OFFICIAL STATE LANGUAGE.

Be it resolved by the House of Representatives:

Section 1. In enacting Chapter 480, Session Laws of 1987, it was not intended to deny or deprive any State or local service to any person otherwise entitled thereto.

Sec. 2. This resolution is effective upon adoption.

GOVERNOR MARTHA LAYNE COLLINS
STATE OF KENTUCKY

REMARKS TO THE
NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

NEW DIRECTIONS FOR A NEW SOUTH

I'm delighted to be here this evening to talk with you about the future of the Southern states. We in the South have a right to be proud of many aspects of our culture and our quality of life, but they will not be enough to sustain us in the future.

As we move into the 1990s and beyond, it is critical that the South take a hard look at where we have been and where we want to stand in the 21st century world economy.

"Governor Winter and the members of his commission were handed a difficult job and they proved themselves more than equal to it. They have produced a blueprint for action in the South. Now we face the tough part -- implementing the plan.

"At one point during World War I, Americans became concerned that enemy submarines were getting too close to American shores. Some of the country's leading thinkers were offering sage advice about what should be done, and someone asked Will Rogers what he would suggest. He thought for a moment and said, "I'd just make the ocean boil so the subs would have to leave." The next question, of course, was "How do we do that?" Rogers replied, "That's up to you. I just make recommendations. It's someone else's job to implement them."

"That's our situation. The South is halfway home, and thanks to the commission, we have a road map. How do we make it the rest of the way? One thing is certain. We cannot allow this report -- these thoughtful and timely goals -- to gather dust on our office shelves.

"This is a crucial time, not just for the South, but for the nation as a whole. We're transforming the ways we work, communicate and conduct business. We see evidence of those changes in satellite dishes up and down the most remote Appalachian hollows, in the robots that are transforming our factories, even in the automatic banking facilities on our city street corners.

"Change and movement are taking place in every aspect of our lives, and it is crucial that we take advantage of the new patterns being established. We must move as quickly as possible because part of the reason we're only halfway home is that the target keeps moving. Other states aren't standing still. They're moving and changing while we're still trying to pull up beside them. To complicate matters further, we're not just competing with other states anymore. We're competing globally.

"There's a new century coming and a new economy with it, and I believe the South should lead the way. Do we have special problems? Of course we do, but we also have special advantages and special opportunities.

"Our advantages are that we're a region of dependable and hardworking people. We're a region with extraordinary water, land, and mineral resources. We're a region of enviable climate and rich tradition. We're renowned worldwide for our scenic beauty and reputation for warmth and hospitality.

"Our opportunities are that new foreign and domestic industries have discovered our states, and we must find ways to keep them here and attract still more while protecting our quality of life.

"Another opportunity will come next year when we'll hold our first multi-state presidential primary. It will go a long way toward strengthening our role in setting the national agenda. When those candidates come to seek our support, the Southern states must speak to them with one voice -- as a region. The multi-state primary will give us an unprecedented opportunity to work together, pool our resources and our efforts, and ensure a secure future for our individual states and the region as a whole.

"The issues that affect the South are not partisan issues, nor are they limited to state boundaries. The barriers to productivity that have held us back are common threads running throughout the South. All of us face the problems of illiteracy, the need for better schools and the decline of some of our traditional industries, so we must break down those barriers together.

"As we begin to implement the commission's ten regional objectives, three things are clear. (1) We must identify and develop leaders who can motivate and mobilize our people. (2) We must use our resources wisely. (3) We must set up a structure for on-going progress.

"Visionary, thoughtful leaders are essential to the South because the crucial key to making changes and getting the rest of the way home is persuading our people to buy into the idea of progress. Only if they feel a sense of participation and ownership will our fellow southerners join us in moving ahead to new opportunities.

"The question then comes back to you and me. Are we motivated to change? Can we mobilize our constituencies to accomplish these objectives? Can we offer the effective leadership necessary to move the South forward as a region?

"The essence of leadership is not a defense of the status quo -- a contentment with things as they are. Leadership -- genuine and true leadership -- requires a willingness to push beyond what is convenient to what is necessary. It requires a willingness to reach beyond what is easy to what is right, and a willingness to measure ourselves by the highest standard rather than the least common denominator. The most important quality of leadership is a belief that we can do better.

"In North Carolina, you've been fortunate to have leaders willing to question the status quo, and their boldness has brought you special progress. When Luther Hodges committed this state to building the Research Triangle Park, he was not deterred by those who found him too idealistic. When Terry Sanford committed this state to racial justice and public education, he was not deterred by those who said it was not popular. When Sam Ervin committed this nation to a reaffirmation that our leaders must be held accountable under the law, he was not deterred by those who said it would be difficult. And when Jim Hunt committed this state to rapid economic development, he was not deterred by those who thought the competition was too keen or the job too big.

"Your leaders have achieved success through their ability to mobilize public support for their initiatives. Reaching people and making them aware of the need to change isn't easy. Just getting their attention is a challenge. People are constantly entertained today, so they aren't easily impressed with mild pleas and vague rhetoric.

"Statistics don't always work either. We've become numb to them. They're no longer meaningful. It has been said that one death is a tragedy, but a million deaths is a statistic. So to bring our point across to the Southern people, it is essential that we spotlight not facts and figures, but changes being wrought on our individual citizens.

"We could promote adult literacy programs by saying that 23 million American adults are functionally illiterate -- or we could talk about the 51-year-old woman in Texas who is now learning to read for the first time because she wants to read the Bible.

"We could promote education by saying that 30 percent of our American people do not have high school diplomas -- or we could talk about Steve, the janitor in the Kentucky Capitol Building, who dropped out of school after the 10th grade. He just completed his GED and his test scores were so high that he is now applying to several colleges, and his own positive experience has convinced his wife to continue her education, too. Southerners like Steve and the woman learning to read know that the world is changing and they want to keep up with it. They've bought in.

"While we're talking about our people who are still struggling, we should also tell our success stories because our situation isn't as bleak as some would have us believe. When the Toyota Motor Company decided to build a plant in the United States, they didn't go to Massachusetts or California. They came to Kentucky -- to the South. That $800 million plant with its 3,000 jobs and $80 million payroll has been a turning point in the state's history.

"The changing economy has underscored even more clearly the critical need for preparing our young people for the jobs of tomorrow. We worked for two years to pass the most sweeping education reform package in Kentucky's history. That package brought with it smaller class sizes, more money for teachers, and new remedial programs, but more important, it brought about a new respect for learning among our people.

"Also in Kentucky, we've put more money into higher education than at any time in the past two decades, and I've recently created the Governor's Council on Science and Technology, because our own ability to generate and use technology will be a cornerstone of our future progress.

"All the Southern states have accomplishments like these to be proud of, and as we work toward our common goals, it's important to maintain our sense of pride while realizing that we must also work together as a region to motivate our people and achieve further progress.

"If motivating and mobilizing people is rarely easy, finding the resources to implement change is even harder. The more limited our resources are, the more important it becomes to use them thoughtfully and judiciously.

"Many of the programs needed to implement the commission's recommendations will cost money, but many will not. Many can be implemented without additional cost or by using old money in new ways, but it is essential that we begin immediately to direct our resources toward these long-term investments that will give us the greatest return.

"As we distribute our resources, whether they involve existing funds or new appropriations, it is critical that we never lose sight of our goals and priorities. We must look beyond the immediate concerns of today and focus on where we want to be 5, 10, and 20 years from now. Clearly, the South cannot afford short-term, quick-fix solutions. They haven't worked in the past and they certainly won't work in this new global age.

To get the rest of the way home, we must set up a structure that will continue our momentum in the years ahead and clear the paths to opportunity for future generations. If we really are going to lead the nation and the world into the 21st century, we must be willing to take some very obvious steps.

"We must be willing to do what is necessary to recruit and keep the best teachers for our schools. We must be willing to do what is necessary to ensure that our students stay in school and learn while they are there. We must be willing to do what is necessary to help agricultural and manufacturing workers move into new lines of work with new skills and renewed faith in our economy. We must be willing to share ideas and resources, and to pull together. The progress of the Southern states, both individually and collectively, depends on it because if we don't do it for ourselves, it simply won't be done. No one in Washington or New York or Tokyo or London is going to do it for us.

"The 'Halfway Home' report can be a turning point for the South. I've already seen great enthusiasm for its findings. Our challenge is to turn that enthusiasm into aggressive action in North Carolina, in Kentucky, and in every Southern state. Each of our states must adopt these goals and make them our top priorities in our budgets and our legislative sessions.

"While we'll continue to compete good-naturedly among ourselves, we must also work together to move the entire region ahead. The Southern primary will be our best opportunity for the kind of cooperative effort that will give all of us a stronger voice on the national scene.

"I know that our goals are realistic, because I've seen how far we've already come, and while it's true that we have a long way to go, none of us is making the journey alone. You and I share the same hopes and dreams for our states and for the South as a whole. We share a common vision of what our region can become, and each of us wants to be a part of making that vision a reality.

"In November, when this report was presented to the Southern Growth Policies Board, a commission member -- Harriet Zimmerman -- eloquently summarized our feelings and our challenge. She repeated an expression from her faith that you and I should carry in our hearts as we continue to take the South the rest of the way home.

"We're not commanded to perfect the world...but neither are we permitted to desist from trying."

FORMER GOVERNOR WILLIAM F. WINTER
STATE OF MISSISSIPPI

REMARKS TO THE
NORTH CAROLINA GENERAL ASSEMBLY
RALEIGH, NORTH CAROLINA

MARCH 2, 1987

It is almost like carrying coals to Newcastle to come to North Carolina to talk about new ideas and new strategies. For this is the state where so much of the successful effort in charting progressive educational and economic programs began. I think of Governor Luther Hodges and his concept of the Research Triangle carried to fruition by Governor Terry Sanford who put North Carolina years ahead of the rest of the South with an educational program that is just now being copied by some of the rest of us. This is where the idea of the Southern Growth Policies Board was advanced and where it was first organized.

And while our Commission on the Future of the South was working last year to chart a course for the region, you were putting in place for this state your own strategies in your Commission on Jobs and Economic Growth under the leadership of Governor Jordan. I am particularly impressed with the recommendations for a North Carolina Rural Economic Development Center. That is the kind of innovation that will again have this state pointing the way to the solution of the problems of the region.

It, of course, has been to try to address some of these problems that the Commission on the Future of the South was organized last year. I want to take a few minutes to give you a little of the background of our report. It was prepared against the background of serious structural changes in the South.

Let us look for a moment at what has been happening during the 1980's. There has been a major shifting of public initiative from the federal government to the states and local subdivisions. There has been spotty economic growth that has adversely affected most rural areas. The farm economy, the energy economy, and the labor-intensive manufacturing economy have been having serious problems. The competition for business and for jobs has now moved to the Pacific Rim and to Latin America. There is now a realization that only a continuing major investment in education is going to create the productive capacity that we need. And finally, there is the understanding that if we make it, we must make it together – black and white, rural and urban, rich and poor – that we are increasingly interdependent and that none of us can really get ahead unless we all get ahead.

That is what this report on the future of the South is all about. It is not just a grab-bag of desirable alternatives. It is a statement of mandatory objectives which must be achieved ultimately if the South as a region is ever going to attain parity with the rest of the country. Because we do not have as much catching-up time as we did before, there is an urgency about the report that we cannot ignore. That is why I hope you will respond to the call for specific constructive action that this report presents.

Let me say a word about our Commission. Representing leadership from every aspect of our region, the members brought a unique combination of ideas out of their own experience in government, in business, in education, and in journalism.

The Commission identified three major work areas: human resource development, technology and innovation with special emphasis on global challenges, and government structure and fiscal capacity. There then followed what was the most systematic assembling of information about the region that has been undertaken in recent years – maybe even for the first time ever.

It was the feeling of the Commission that the structural changes that are taking place in the Southern economy today are so pervasive and far-reaching that only a massive unified strategy will be adequate to cope with our problems.

We do not overstate the case when we insist that we are at a crossroads, and the direction we take or fail to take at this time can well prove to be irreversible in the future. Actually, the choices are rather clear. There should be little argument about their validity. The costs, however, will be considerable. I do not necessarily mean costs just in financial terms, although it would be naive to suggest that we can avoid substantial additional public and private investments. What may well be more difficult for us, however, is the giving up of some of our old ways of doing things – in the running of our educational systems, in our economic development strategies, in our relationship to each other in the region and to the rest of the world, in our parochial concerns over status and authority and turf, in the way we administer state and local governments.

Nobody, least of all the members of the Commission, has said that it would be easy. We do, however, say that it is possible – politically possible and economically possible – to do everything that this Commission has recommended doing. These are not far-fetched, pie-in-the-sky fantasies. These are hard-nosed, no-nonsense programs that will move us to where we need to go. And we say that unless we take forthright, good-faith action to carry out these recommendations, we shall relegate our region, or at least several million people of our region, to perhaps another hundred years of missed opportunity and unrealized goals.

I would assume that you feel, as I do, that this is unacceptable – unacceptable for purely humanitarian reasons, but also unacceptable out of simple political and economic self-interest. As our report points out, just as our nation found more than a century ago that it could not endure half-slave and half-free, so our region cannot stand, much less move ahead, if we are permanently divided into two groups of people – one thriving, prospering, enjoying the good life that comes from education and social privilege and political preferment – the other struggling to survive, locked into an existence limited by ignorance, disease, and a changing way of making a living. There are more than 60 million of us living in this region now. That number increases rapidly each year. It is increasing very rapidly for poor children. It includes that 6 million adults over 25, who are functionally illiterate. It numbers that 30% of land-owning farmers who soon must find a new livelihood. It embraces a rural population that after twenty years of steady upward progress during the sixties and seventies now has a per capita income less than three-fourths the national average and is now falling further behind each year.

After a long, hard look at who we are and where we are, our Commission has come with a series of ten major strategic recommendations, which are in turn divided into a number of specific suggestions for action. When taken as a whole, they all add up to one overriding statement of policy – that to get all the way home and guarantee our future, we must use our presently available resources more wisely and we must make major additional public and private investments in human capital. Some of the recommendations will cost more money now. But some will save money now – and all will save money over the long haul.

I shall not take up your time or Governor Collins' time here tonight to detail those recommendations. They are presented in our report Halfway Home and a Long Way to Go in a very clear and concise way. I hope each of you will take the time to study that report, which I believe that you will find very readable, since it was put together into final form by one of your own fine North Carolina writers, Doris Betts of Chapel Hill. I hope that you will feel after considering it that this report has hit on the right priorities.

I believe that we have, and I believe with equal assurance that a commitment of support from the General Assembly of North Carolina, aided and joined by other political leaders of the region, will make a critical difference in achieving parity for the South.

That is not going to happen, though, if we approach it as we so often have in the past with a fragmented and casual strategy and a business–as–usual attitude. It will not happen if we listen to the cynics and the nay–sayers. We Southerners have been more inclined to put off doing things that we ought to do until the weather cooled, the crops were in, or the moon was right. Well let me suggest that the moon is right to do what we propose.

This report represents for the first time in the history of the South a carefully arrived at plan of action that will make a difference in the future of the South. Not just because this Commission has worked so hard on it – and I cannot emphasize too strongly the hours and days and months of effort that have gone into this report – but because it does carry the right message and sends the right signals, I urge you to use it as a kind of playbook in the contest for the future. The lives of over 60 million people – and of equal importance the lives of their children and grandchildren – will be influenced by how you respond to the recommendations of this report. The South is indeed at the crossroads, and we are looking for the right road to take. This is the road map, but we have to travel the road together. And if we do, I am satisfied that all of us can make it all the way home.

PAPER COMMEMORATING THE 50TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE STATE BUREAU OF INVESTIGATION READ BY REPRESENTATIVE JACK HUNT ON MARCH 23, 1987

The bill creating a State Bureau of Identification and Investigation (House Bill 393, Chapter 349, 1937 Public Laws) was introduced in the House of Representatives by Representative Cyrus Conrad (Con) Johnston of Iredell County and was ratified March 22, 1937. Johnston was Chairman of the House Roads Committee and was serving his second term in the General Assembly.

The Bureau was to be funded out of one–half of the proceeds of a special $1.00 cost of court fee, and was to be activated at the discretion of the Governor.

Governor Hoey activated the agency in March, 1938, naming Frederick C. Handy, of Raleigh, a former U. S. Government Secret Agent and later an insurance investigator, as the Director.

The Bureau began with a working capital of $25,622 and its estimated budget for fiscal year 1938–39 was $35,000. It consisted of three Divisions -- Identification, Investigation and Criminal Statistics -- and was ready to begin work by September 1, 1938, with a staff of nine persons.

It received its first small appropriation from the General Assembly in 1941, and as late as 1943 was operating on a budget of $51,655 with a staff of 13 persons.

Handy resigned as Director in October, 1943, and was succeeded by Thomas Creekmore, who had been Assistant Director. Willard Gatling was named Chief of the investigating staff at the same time.

In 1943, Creekmore accepted a job with the United States Government, aiding in the prosecution of Japanese war criminals, and was replaced by Walter F. Anderson, a former Charlotte and Winston-Salem Police Chief.

Anderson was appointed Director of the North Carolina Prison System by Governor Kerr Scott in 1951. He later headed the North Carolina Wildlife Resource Commission's Law Enforcement Division.

James W. Powell, who had joined the Bureau in 1938 as a ballistics and technical expert and had served with Army Intelligence Forces during World War II, was named to succeed Anderson. He remained as Director until 1957 when he was dismissed by Attorney General George Patton.

At that time Anderson became Bureau Director for the second time and served until December, 1966. He was replaced by Myron H. McBryde, a native of Sanford and a practicing attorney in Mississippi at the time.

McBryde was followed by Charles J. Dunn, who was appointed in 1968 by Attorney General Robert Morgan. Dunn resigned in 1975 and was succeeded by Haywood R. Starling.

In 1985, former Attorney General Robert Morgan was named Director by Attorney General Lacy H. Thornburg and last year Dunn returned to the Bureau as Deputy Director.

Today's SBI operates on a budget of approximately $25 million dollars. It employs over 500 persons, 298 of them being sworn agents, technicians and chemists. It provides the only statewide criminal laboratory facilities, and its Division of Criminal Information serves law enforcement agencies across the State in compiling and providing criminal history and statistics.

During the last fiscal year the Bureau opened 4,494 investigations and its Laboratory worked 30,246 cases. During calendar year 1986, SBI drug agents worked 3,083 drug related cases.

PRAYERS OFFERED IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES 1987

Dr. Albert G. Edwards
House Chaplain

Monday, February 9, 1987

O Sovereign God, unseen but ever near, silent as night, and more powerful than wind, water or wave, we thank You for the State of North Carolina and its amazing diversity of people, places and products.

We thank You for the men and women of this House who are prepared to make available for the good government of the State their time, energy, experience and minds. O God, if they are short on any of these blessings may it not be their minds, for Thy word informs us that we have much to fear from unenlightened zealots and intellectual snobs. By the power of Thy Holy Spirit may they be men and women who "think without confusion clearly and who love their fellow-citizens sincerely."

We pray in the Name of Him who was great because He was far too great to care about greatness at all. Amen.

Tuesday, February 10, 1987

We thank You, Lord of Heaven and Earth for this another day. It may not have all the newness and excitement and camaraderie of yesterday, but we rejoice it is another day, another gift of Thine to be received and used and enjoyed.

May our gratitude and gladness for the day be such that we feel like saying "YES" to life.

"YES" to its triumphs and defeats.
"YES" to its tensions and its peace.
"YES" to its sorrows and its joys.

We pray in the Name of Him who is your glorious "YES" to all mankind. Amen.

Wednesday, February 11, 1987

Great God, it must be satisfying to many to have a balanced Board like unto the Whiteville School Board, but, O God, deliver us as people from wanting to lead balanced lives. Help us to see that a balanced life ordinarily is a complacent, conventional, mediocre life – a life trapped in the dark cave of its own content.

Give us, O God, enough unbalanced members of this House to make possible progressive change.

We pray in the Name of Him who was motivated by a magnificent Divine discontent. Amen.

Thursday, February 12, 1987

Father and Friend, although there is a dress code for the members of this House, help us to remember that there is something that all of us can wear - A SMILE. Not continually, LORD for then we will appear more stupid than we are, but ofentimes may our faces DECLARE THE TRUTH of Proverbs:

"A glad heart makes a cheerful countenance," (13:15) May those who did not get the committees they wanted or the offices they wanted smile too. We pray in the Name of Him who knew both gladness and sadness. Amen.

Friday, February 13, 1987

Great God and Father of us all, our prayer on this beautiful Friday morning is the words of the late Bishop Cushman:

Dear God, it's a glorious morning!
A glorious morning to see,
With the blue up above
The gift of Thy love,
A wonderful morning from Thee.

Oh, keep us in wonderful mornings!
Whatever the morning may be;
In rain or in snow,
Dear God, let us know,
It's a wonderful morning with Thee!

Amen.

Monday, February 16, 1987

We thank You, Lord of Heaven and earth, that not all days and evenings are comparable, weatherwise, to past and present hours.

We also thank You for the pertinent promise through the words of the Prophet Isaiah:

"As the rain cometh down and the snow from Heaven and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth that it may bring forth and bud and give seed to the sower and bread to the eater, so shall my word be that goeth forth out of my mouth; it shall not return unto me empty, but it shall accomplish that which I purpose and prosper in the thing for which I sent it" (55:10)

As these men and women face another legislative week, may the promise of Thy word to them be:

"In all Your ways acknowledge Him, and he shall direct your paths." (Proverbs 3:5-6)

We pray in the Name of Him who is our assurance of all promises fulfilled. Amen.

Tuesday, February 17, 1987

God of light and love and life, a lot of salt, tons and tons of it, have been spread on our highways in these past two days; it is another reminder of the variety of uses of this strange and powerful substance that can be so helpful and harmful.

We also remember, O God, that one of the effects of salt is that it makes us thirsty. Provide in this House a sufficient number of "salty" legislators to make possible such wise and needed legislation that the citizens of North Carolina will thirst for more.

We pray in the name of Him who said. "Ye are the salt of the earth." Amen.

Wednesday, February 18, 1987

Great God, Thou who art our strength, our song, and our salvation, we wish it was as true of the snow and ice on our streets as the poet wrote of the snow on the river:

"And like the snowfall on the river,
A moment white then gone forever."

But we pray, our Father, that what is true of the snowfall on the river may not be true of the members of this House:

"A session here, then gone forever."

Help them to be so diligent and impartial and unselfish that their terms will be many and their service of enduring worth.

In the name of Him whose word was His bond. Amen.

Monday, February 23, 1987

O Sovereign God, help us frequently to recall the words of William Faulkner:

"The basis of all things is to be afraid."

Keep us afraid of a day when the walls of our integrity may be breached. Keep us afraid of possessing insufficient information from which to make intelligent decisions.

Keep us afraid of betraying the trust of those who have sent us here.

Keep us afraid of becoming victims to the myth of invulnerability.

As we live with such worthy fears, may they not depress us or paralyze us but, may they drive us to increasing remembrance of our dependence on Him who knew He needed to pray, and who has encouraged us and taught us to pray. Amen.

Tuesday, February 24, 1987

Great God, Designer, Builder, and Maintainer of this amazing world on which and off which we live, help us to learn a lesson from the physical deterioration of the dome of our State Capitol; a lesson well expressed by the words of one who wrote:

"It is the neglect of timely repair that makes rebuilding necessary."

And, we acknowledge, our Father, that the words are true not only for buildings but for our personal lives, our marriages, our families, and also our laws.

Help us also to remember that ordinarily it is far less expensive to repair than to rebuild.

We pray in the Name of Him who came to rebuild our lives at the cost of His life. Amen.

Wednesday, February 25, 1987

O generous God, Thou who dost love us whether we love You or not, as the members of this House become more and more involved with committee meetings help them to recall Thy words:

"Bear ye one another's burdens..."
"Every person shall bear his own burdens."

Thus may they remember that there are needs that no one can supply by himself or herself, just as there are responsibilities that each individual must shoulder alone.

Grant to the members of this House the wisdom to discern where public help is essential and where individual initiative must be maintained.

In Thy strong Name we pray, Amen.

Thursday, February 26, 1987

We thank You, Lord, for the information that is being shared with us concerning Appropriations. For some it may be as boring as watching the rerun of a basketball game when the final score is already known; for others it is light in our darkness, and some of us need all the light that is available.

Help us to remember that Heaven has its appropriations also; as Your word assures us:

"Call upon me and I will deliver you."

And whether we are seeking help, confessing sin, or offering thanks, help us to remember that a "line by line" accounting is much better than a lump sum statement.

In Thy strong Name we pray. Amen.

Friday, February 27, 1987

Once again, O God, the sleet and snow descend from Heaven, and to the distress and discomfort and displeasure of many. But annoyed and unhappy as we may be, help us to look beyond the present to coming weeks and months when the bounty of the soil and the abundance of the streams will testify anew that the inconveniences of the moment of times are unrecognized blessings of the future.

Be with the members of this House who very soon will begin their journey home; if they use common sense and courtesy may they arrive safely at their destinations, and find a gladness of welcome that will dispell the tension of travel.

We pray in the name of the Companion of all our days. Amen.

Monday, March 2, 1987

Eternal Father, strong to save, the members of this House have spent the weekend being "good neighbors" and now they face another week of being "good citizens." Since it is harder, Lord, to be a good citizen than it is a good neighbor, give them all they need of understanding, discretion, willpower and perseverance to do for deserving others the best they can. Help us to be good listeners to the messages of the evening; to be practitioners of the ancient counsel: "to listen with the eyes and to hear with the heart."

We pray in the Name of Him who is never too tired or too disinterested to listen to our words. Amen.

Tuesday, March 3, 1987

We thank you, Lord, for what we heard last night. We readily acknowledge that such messages can either make us contentious or caring. Grant that the response of the members of this House is such that they will be caring enough to contend for that kind of worthwhile progress which will prove to other states that North Carolina no longer is the "Rip Van Winkle" state.

We pray, remembering that You neither slumber nor sleep. Amen.

Wednesday, March 4, 1987

Great God, Thou who art Creator, Redeemer, Sustainer and Friend, just as the Speaker reminds the Pages of the week that they will experience sore limbs and aching feet, so also do the members of the House well know that they too have their sores and aches; some are sore from sitting, others are weary in mind from thinking, a few are stressed by constant interruptions, and some are pained from too much eating. May relief be found through physical exercise, unbroken sleep, a friendly smile, an unexpected word of praise, or best of all a loving word from family at home.

We pray in the Name of Him who was not immune to pain or physical discomfort. Amen.

Thursday, March 5, 1987

O God, most generous, we thank You for the gift of sight; perhaps we do not appreciate it until it is lost or until we are conscious that it is being lost.

Help us to remember the wise words of one who said:

"Sight is a faculty; but seeing is an art."

By the power of Thy Spirit enable the members of this House to see the needs of others as much as they see their own.

We pray in the Name of Him who gently chided us with His familiar words:

"Having eyes see ye not...?
Having ears hear ye not...?"

Amen.

Friday, March 6, 1987

Almighty God, we thank You that Your word proclaims the truth:

"As the heavens are high above the earth, so great is Thy loving kindness to those who reverence Thee."

May that loving kindness help make possible safe travel for those of this House who soon may begin a journey home.

May they not leave their best selves in their offices, and take their worst selves home. Help us this weekend to reserve our best for those who most of all deserve the best but often get the worst.

We pray in the Name of Him who gave His utmost for even the worst of us. Amen.

Tuesday, March 10, 1987

Great God, each day You give us is an occasion for celebration, but we are especially grateful for this day when we celebrate the one hundredth anniversary of the establishment of North Carolina State University.

We thank You for the Legislative effort and interest and support of many years that have assisted with the expansion of this university and helped it become the renowned place of higher education that it is.

In the midst of our justifiable pride in all our colleges and universities and community colleges, help us to remember that although education is important, even more significant is the life purpose of the educated person. We pray in the Name of Him who encourages us to use well the mind with which He has endowed us. Amen.

Wednesday, March 11, 1987

Almighty God, we thank You for the effort being made by the members of this House to relieve overcrowding in our State prisons. May time prove that what has been hastily done has been wisely done.

We confess, O God, that not all prisoners are wards of the State. Many of us here are captive to our lower natures; we are prisoners to pride, power, greed, envy, work, evil, prejudice, drugs, liquor and much else. Some of us are captives also to candy, laziness, chewing tobacco and a host of other uncontrolled desires.

Help us to see that there is no legislation that will free us from our inner ills. If we want to be liberated, help us to see that it will be through the power of Him who came to "proclaim liberty to the captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound." Amen.

Thursday, March 12, 1987

O gracious God, we offer thanks this day for those who perform the many thankless tasks which are so essential for the orderly, progressive, and productive work of the members of this House. Our earnest thanks are offered for clerks, secretaries, receptionists, computer operators, door keepers, pages, security workers, and switchboard operators. Neither would we be unmindful of those who disburse our welcomed pay checks, nor would we fail to thank Thee for our reporters and television crews – a nuisance at times, but a needed nuisance. For all these and others we can thankfully say, "Bless the Lord, O my soul." Amen.

Friday, March 13, 1987

It won't be long, our Father, before many members of this House begin their weekend visits to their home districts.

Some, Lord, are going home to "face the music." Some will like the tune that will be played, and others won't like what they hear. Others will experience both.

When what is heard is pleasing and pleasant to the ear, help them to be humbly grateful; when the tune that is played is discord to their ears grant them that inner tranquility which has its source in conduct born of honest personal conviction and integrity.

We ask this in the name of Him who for His strong conviction voluntarily died on a rough hewn, splintery cross. Amen.

Monday, March 16, 1987

Another Monday evening, Lord, and the saints resume the labors of another week. Rightly so, Lord, are they spoken of as saints, for Thy word teaches us that saints are not the dead occupiers of stained glass windows, but that the saints are those men and women who, for Thy sake and with Thy help, are working to improve themselves, and that portion of Thy world where they dwell. Neither, Lord, is an easy task, but we recall with thanksgiving that "with Thee nothing is impossible."

Help them to come not only "marching in" but also marching on. Amen.

Tuesday, March 17, 1987

God of Grace and God of Glory, on this Saint Patrick's Day we remember that North Carolina once was dubbed "The Ireland of America." We acknowledge that this was not a compliment.

We can't speak for Ireland, but we do thank You for the positive changes that have taken place in North Carolina since the mid eighteen eighties. We express our gratitude this day for all the political leaders of previous years whose courageous efforts helped shape the state of which we are so proud. Enable the members of this House to realize that they are surrounded by "a great cloud of witnesses" and may their daily labors demonstrate that good government continues to be a practice as well as a belief.

Our prayer is offered in the name of Him who controls the rise and fall of all nations. Amen.

Wednesday, March 18, 1987

Help us to see, Lord, that it is human to worry, and that often worrying is useful.

If some of us did not worry how we smell we may not take a bath or shower.

If some of us did not worry about paying our debts and meeting other financial obligations we might not work.

If some of us did not worry about our appearance we might dress like slobs.

Give us the wisdom, Lord, to distinguish between wasteful worrying and worthwhile worrying, and the power to put our worries to work.

We offer prayer in the Name of Him whose only worry was that He might fail to glorify His Heavenly Father. Amen.

Thursday, March 19, 1987

O Soverign God, Thou limitless source of power and perseverance and encouragement, within a few minutes the members of this House and the members of the Senate will experience again a time of proximity, community, and communication. How much of the element of cooperation will be present remains to be seen.

Help each participant to be alive to what is true and dead to what other people may think.

We offer prayer in the Name of Him who promises to lead us in the path of life and truth. Amen.

Friday, March 20, 1987

Almighty God, we recall the words of Calvin Coolidge:

"I've never been hurt by anything I didn't say."

It may have been true for him, our Father, but it is not so for most of us. Many of us carry with us the hurts born of those unforgettable times when we exhibited a guilty silence; times, Lord, when we should have spoken, should have expressed our selves, but did not. Forgive us, and may Thy Spirit grant unto us the wisdom to know not only when to be silent but also when to speak.

May this be a healing, happy, healthy weekend for all members of this House and for all staff who so diligently and helpfully work for them and with them.

Our prayer is offered in the Name of Him who practiced so effectively the art of silence and speech. Amen.

Monday, March 23, 1987

We rejoice this night, our Father, that the Buzzards have returned to Hinckley, Maine, that the swallows have returned to their offices and their desks, that the Sergeant-at-Arms has returned to his chair, and that Spring has returned to North Carolina. May Spring bring not only its resurgence of life to Nature, but may it also bring a renewal of hope and happiness and health to all whose eyes are open, and who minds are alert to the wonders around us.

We pray in the name of Him who is the Man for all seasons. Amen.

Wednesday, March 25, 1987

Great God, Thou who are Record Keeper and Judge, how true it is for some of us that:

"It takes very little to wipe out a lot of tranquility."

A breaking shoe lace; a popped button; a balky zipper; a rude driver; an irate caller; an unpleasant clerk; an anonymous letter. These,

Lord, and many others so quickly ruin our inner peace and destroy a quiet mind.

In the midst of all such distractions and disturbances help us to remember the testimony of Paul: "The peace of God, which passeth all understanding, shall garrison your heart and mind."

We pray in the name of Him who is the source of such tranquility. Amen.

Friday, March 27, 1987

Eternal God, Thou who hast made us living temples in whom Thou art pleased to dwell, how well You know that most of us, not all of us, but most of us have a passion for possessions. We want material things, we want to be loved and liked, we want to be influential, and we want others to know that we exist.

Among all the things the members of this House want today, may it be that they want to go home. To return to family, close friends, chosen work, familiar faces and beloved places. May these wholesome wants be well satisfied this weekend.

We pray in the name of Him whose only wants were and still are, that we come to know Him better and to love Him more. Amen.

Thursday, April 2, 1987

Almighty God, Thou who art Love that never fails, Trust that never falters, and Light that never fades, we acknowledge anew how much we need Thee as light. Ever be to us, we pray, what light is to the physical world – the source of growth and productivity, also that power which clarifies, reveals, dispels and corrects. All that light is to Thy universe may Thy Being prove to be to us.

We ask it in the name of Him who said: "I am the light of the world; he that followeth me shall not walk in darkness, but shall have the light of life." Amen.

Friday, April 3, 1987

Great God, Thou whose loving-kindness is everlasting and whose faithfulness is for all generations, we thank You for what we learned yesterday about Bail Bondsmen. We acknowledge their importance to a large segment of our society; men and women who have no significant material possessions, and who quickly discover that in a time of need the philosophy of their friends is that "a friend in need is a good friend to avoid." O God, keep this House ever alert to the needs of "little people."

On this weekend at home may the members of this House find that the "little people" are as glad to see them as are the powerful and the influential and the rich.

We pray in the Name of Him who affirmed, "inasmuch as ye did it unto one of the least of these, ye did it unto me." Amen.

Monday, April 6, 1987

O matchless and almighty God, we thank You for this convening time which made possible for the members of this House an extra hour at home. Whether it was used to kiss loved ones goodbye, or for professional labor, or for rest, or recreation, only the individual knows. This we do know, however, that Thou are "our refuge and our strength, an ever-present help in times of good or ill." May such knowledge make possible for each one the fruitful labor of another week.

We pray in the Name of Him to whom work was no stranger, for He himself said, "I work and my Father works." Amen.

Tuesday, April 7, 1987

Gracious God, under whose rule we live, in whose grace we stand, and by whose power we do well our appointed tasks, forgive us that so frequently we blame our errors and mistakes and failures on poor communication; in honesty we must confess that it is not failure of speech but faulty listening; enable us to be patient, generous with time, and so genuine in interest that listening well we will hear and hearing we will understand and understanding we will then speak responsibly and act intelligently.

We seek this in the name of Him whose ears were ever open to all words and who then acted with compassion. Amen.

Wednesday, April 8, 1987

Great God, our Guiding Light and Strength in every fight. You call us Friends, help us to be loyal ones; You call us DISCIPLES, help us to be teachable ones; You call us CO-WORKERS, help us to be diligent ones.

Not for individual glory do we offer this prayer, but that our labor and service may be for the blessing of others, and that we in service to others may come to know higher joy.

We pray in the name of Him whose joy had its source in doing well Thy will. Amen.

Thursday, April 9, 1987

We thank You Lord, that the prayers are not subject to amendments, though undoubtedly there are some members of the House who may long to amend them. We also recognize that Thou wilt not hear and answer according to our words, but that Thou dost reserve to Thyself the right to amend and even to veto. Even as we express in words our thoughts and desires, we readily trust ourselves to Thine infinite wisdom and to Thine unsearchable kindness. Of this we are assured that "the eternal God is our refuge and that underneath are the everlasting arms."

So we believe and so we pray. Amen.

Friday, April 10, 1987

O loving God, Thou source of all things good, as our cups in this past week have overflowed with blessings so also may our hearts be abundant with gratitude. May the joy of this day be increased by the anticipation of the week-end experiences. May those who soon will journey home be made very happy by the thought of seeing again their own house, sleeping in their own bed, personal contacts with their own families and neighbors, and the thrill of home cooking. Whatever the weekend offers, may they derive from it strength and joy and endless pleasure.

In the name of the ever-present Christ. Amen.

Monday, April 13, 1987

Almighty God, Owner and Operator of this vast universe, we thank You that those of us who dwell on the speck of a planet called Earth are encouraged by You to call Thee Father, thus do we know that Thou art approachable, knowable, lovable, and available.

We know not what this week has in store so we pray that in abundance You will keep us faithful and grateful, and that in need You will keep us trusting and hopeful.

In Thy holy Name, Amen.

Tuesday, April 14, 1987

Sovereign God, in whose hand are the mysterious depths of the earth and also the incalculable heights. Thou whose voice can still the tempestuous wave and whose hand controls the boisterous wind, we thank Thee that when we ourselves are tempest-tossed, blown hither and yon by the prevailing winds of diverse opinions, we then may hear Thy voice say unto us, "Peace, be still." Then may it be as true for us as it was for nature, "and the wind ceased and the sea was calmed." (Mark 4:39)

This prayer we offer in the name of Him who spoke the words of peace. Amen.

Wednesday, April 15, 1987

Almighty God, we thankfully acknowledge that Thou art the perfect Companion for all seasons; but many of us readily discover that we are not made for all seasons; there are the watery eyes, the sinus sneezing, and all the other discomforts associated with Spring allergies; Lord, we are never at our best emotionally or mentally during such sieges. Then too, there are those who are tired, bored, displeased with the progress of bills, and bombarded by the presence and pleas of lobbyists.

Gracious God, through it all help us to remember the words of one who said, "Let us be kind to one another for all of us have hard battles to fight."

In Thy strong Name we pray. Amen.

Friday, April 17, 1987

We are grateful, Lord, for the fruitful labor of the past days of this week, and we thank Thee also for the moments of levity that brightened and made more enjoyable the experiences of the days: One member celebrated becoming a year older, but she doesn't show it; another member saw his family increase in size and he does know it; another member was given a crown and some wonder if he deserves it.

As we recall the lighter moments may they not drive from our minds on this Good Friday the remembrance of what was borne for all mankind so many years ago:

A crown of thorns;
A rough hewn splintery cross;
Crude nails;
Cruel remarks;
A raging thirst;
Spite filled faces;

May such remembrance help us to exclaim, "O man, O woman, greatly beloved."

In Thy Strong Name, we pray. Amen.

Tuesday, April 21, 1987

Gracious God, may the Easter week-end have provided us with strengthening experiences for the resumption of recurring duties of high office, and for the daily living of our days.

Let us go forward into another week strongly and fiercely convinced that Thy promise is true:

"Fear thou not, for I am with thee.
Be not dismayed, for I am thy God.
I will strengthen thee, I will help thee.
Yea, I will hold thee with my strong right hand." Isaiah 41:10

So we believe and so we pray. Amen.

Wednesday, April 22, 1987

Almighty God, we who are so changeable come again to Thee who art the same from age to age and day to day.

Sometimes we are too busy to remember Thee, but may we never forget that You with the universe to govern, art never too busy to remember us. This we know because Thy word tells us:

"Behold, I have tattooed your names on the palms of my hands." (Isaiah 49:16)

Help us then to know that we are ever in Your mind and ever on Your heart, and that Thou art ever ready to supply in wisdom and love the needs of ours with which Thou art so well acquainted. Amen.

Thursday, April 23, 1987

We thank Thee, Lord, for controversial issues that demonstrate the best of parliamentary procedure and maneuvering.

May Thy guiding presence be with those who win; keep them from bragging and boasting. This isn't easy, Lord, for no man ever hooks a big fish or bags a twelve point buck and travels home by back roads; neither does a woman snag a millionaire and walk the side streets,

Be also with those who lose; keep them from sulking and from self-reproach.

We seek for both winners and losers a good measure of Thy grace and peace. Amen.

Friday, April 24, 1987

Almighty God, we acknowledge that Thou art wise and loving in all Your ways, but You are making many people unhappy with this weekend weather. It isn't exactly what we hoped for or expected. But as the poet said, You never have promised "skies always blue, sun without shadow, or joy without pain".

In the midst of our disappointment help us to recall those we know who are confined to their homes, hospitals, nursing homes and wheel chairs; how many of them, Lord, would be willing to give all they have to walk about in this rain and to be able once again to be industrious and productive. Help us then to be thoughtful and thankful, and thus happily and heartily to give of ourselves to the work at hand.

In Thy strong Name, we pray. Amen.

Monday, April 27, 1987

Almighty God, Thou who hast promised to give the garment of gladness for the spirit of heaviness, may the beginning of this another work week find us singing and whistling and smiling, filled with optimism for ourselves and our work and for the forthcoming Tuesday evening efforts of the basketball team.

May those who are unable to be "up" emotionally, recall the words of the Psalmist:

> "Why art thou cast down O my soul? Why art thou disquieted within me? Hope Thou in God who is the joy of my life and the song of my soul." (Psalm 42)

In such recollection may there be renewal and rejuvenation.

We offer prayer in Thy strong Name. Amen.

Tuesday, April 28, 1987

Creator God, since Thou hast made us human and divine, Thou knowest why there is within each of us a longing to be the best of something; but most of us, Lord, quickly realize that never will we be the best of anything, unless it is being the best when like Saul of old we "play the fool". O God, some of us rise to heights of greatness at such times; forgive us that we do. Since most of us can never be THE BEST, help each one of us to be his or her best, and to do his or her best. From such honest effort may we find much joy.

We pray in the name of Him who had similar praise for the talented and not-so-talented who gave their all: "Well done, good and faithful servant, enter thou into the joy of thy reward". Amen.

Wednesday, April 29, 1987

We thank you, Lord, for last night's victory at Reynolds Coliseum. We rejoice that there was positive outcome to the combination of talent, hours of practice and gutsy spirit. We are grateful also for the cheer leaders; those members of the House who are classy lassies whether on the House floor or the Coliseum floor.

O God, help us to do more than merely rejoice over a basketball victory; help us to see again what teamwork makes possible. We recognize that in politics it is often important who gets the credit, but last night there was not a man on that team who was playing for personal acclaim. May such team spirit become as evident on the floor of this House.

Almighty God, a game was played last night for "bragging rights"; we pray that the members of this House will work together in days to come to help make possible the inalienable rights of all the citizens of North Carolina. Amen.

Thursday, April 30, 1987

Almighty God, Thou divine presider over the years that have been, the year that is, and years yet to come, we thank You for all who have toiled with brain, hand, voice and feet to help make possible this assembly in Tarboro.

Long remembered by many Legislators and guests will be the joyous welcome, the hospitality of the homes, and the bountiful supply of all worthy needs by the citizens of Tarboro and Edgecombe county.

Our Father, we are not here to idolize the past, but we are here to acknowledge with thanksgiving our indebtedness to the past, for well we know that it is our awareness of the past which enables us to discern Thy eternal presence which is forever correcting what is wrong and confirming what is good. Gracious God, it would be remiss of us were we to fail to acknowledge the prayer power of the Edgecombe ministerial friends of Joe Mavretic; we thank Thee that they did not fail him or us.

May the towering trees which beautify and shade be encouragement to the members of this House to reach great heights as they discharge the duties of the day.

In Thy strong name we pray. Amen.

Friday, May 1, 1987

O God, who made the mountains rise and spread the flowing seas abroad and built the lofty sky, wherever we go there is beauty. Yesterday we met midst the beauty of nature that had known the manicuring hand of man; this morning, Lord, we gather in a beautiful place which reminds us of the imagination, the ingenuity and the marvelous skill of man. Grant, O Lord, that our eyes always will be wide open to the impressive beauty of this House Chamber.

For the members of this House who journey home may the most beautiful sight of this day be their own home, their own family, their own neighborhood, and their own friends. To that end bless them with Thy travelling mercies, a joyous return, and a jubilant reception.

In faith and hope and love, we pray. Amen.

Monday, May 4, 1987

Great God, Thou who are perfect in holiness yet merciful in judgment, may this past weekend have renewed and re-invigorated the lives of the members of this House. May they find themselves strong of heart to dream, strong of mind to think,

strong of will to endure, and strong of faith to protect themselves against the Evil one.

Be with all who serve the members of this House: Clerks, Pages, Secretaries, Sergeant-at-Arms staff, and others. May each in these strenuous days be able to affirm with the Psalmist:

"The Lord is the strength of my life; of whom then shall I be afraid?" (Psalm 27)

Amen.

Tuesday, May 5, 1987

Much is being heard and said, and rightly so Lord, about deadlines for the introduction of bills. As the members of this House respond, may they remember the words of one who said:

"The best thing about the future is that it comes one day at a time."

Help us to remember that it is this principle which makes possible our victories and our achievements. It is this principle on which life is organized.

A book is read one page at a time.
A golf match is won one hole at a time.
A football game is won one down at a time.
Savings accumulate one deposit at a time.
Many a lassie is won one kiss at a time and one gift at a time.

So then, our Father, help us to bring to each day's opportunities and duties our best brains, and strength and discipline.

We seek this in Thy Holy Name. Amen.

Wednesday, May 6, 1987

Great God, it may well be that an afternoon session in this House chamber is welcome relief to those who spend their mornings in a myriad of meetings listening to sometimes clamorous witnesses and to conflicting testimony.

Yet, Lord, without such committee meetings there would be no determination of what is true. Through such meetings and interchange of ideas may these men and women learn the truth; but for them may there be more than mere learning, may they come to love the truth and to follow the truth.

We pray in the Name of Him who gave His life for truth. Amen.

Thursday, May 7, 1987

Great God, the satisfier of the thirsty and the filler of the hungry, we thank You that we do not have to squeeze blessings from You in the manner that we squeeze the last strip of toothpaste from the tube. We thank You that we do not have to coax kindness from You as a lawyer coaxes testimony from a reluctant and uncooperative witness. We thank You that we do not have to work as hard to extract praise from You as a wife does to receive a compliment from a husband.

We have this confidence, Lord, because we remember the ancient words: "Let him who lacketh wisdom ask of God, who giveth to all men liberally and regretteth it not." (James 1:5)

So believing we do pray. Amen.

Monday, May 11, 1987

Almighty God, Thou whose anger is but for a moment, but whose favor is for all time, our prayer is the words of one who wrote:

"Give me a sense of humor, Lord;
Give me the grace to see a joke;
To get some happiness from life,
And pass it on to other folk."

We pray in the Name of him who lightened many a serious moment with a touch of humor. Amen.

Tuesday, May 12, 1987

Almighty God, Thou limitless source of timeless truth and abundant life, we know that yesterday is a memory, tomorrow is a hope and vision, and only today is real. But, Lord, it is easier sometimes to dawdle in the past or daydream about the future than it is to dive into today. It is especially difficult to face the present when Your will conflicts with our will and Your purpose clashes with our ambition. In just such times help us to remember the ancient thought, "in Thy will is our peace," and to believe that Thy "Well Done" is our abiding happiness.

In Thy saving name we pray. Amen.

Wednesday, May 13, 1987

We thank You, Lord, for those of this House who thrive on competition, who enjoy matching wits, who delight in mental gymnastics, and who specialize in parliamentary maneuvering. Ever give to such members something wise and worthwhile to say.

Lord, restrain those who would be but echoes, and sometimes poor echoes, of what has already been said and explained. Control them, even when the television cameras are on the floor.

Be with the quiet ones who keep their seats; give them open minds, enable them to separate the wheat from the chaff, and then be possessors of the courage to vote their conviction.

We pray in the name of Him who voluntarily walked the hard road to the Cross but who beyond the cross, knows and enjoys the blessings of integrity. Amen.

Thursday, May 14, 1987

God of all grace and Father of all mercies, we thank You that Thou doest love each one of us as if each of us is an only child. There are some of us, Lord, who want to wait and see what will happen, rather than working hard to help make the right things happen.

Well we know, that what seems right in the mind of one is conceived as wrong in the mind of another, and therefore there is no way to avoid conflict and criticism. Since there always will be criticism, Lord, grant that all may know that it is better to be criticized for doing too much or too little, than to be criticized for doing nothing.

We pray in the name of Him who lived in the midst of constant criticism but who had the wisdom to know what to accept and what to reject. Amen.

Friday, May 15, 1987

We thank You, Lord, for the great gift of anticipation; this faculty which helps make possible the successful and fruitful living of dull days and difficult days and demanding days.

Thou knowest what the anticipation is that makes joyful this day the lives of the members of this House – the beach, going home, or just the weekend itself.

Forbid, O God, that the hunger for adjournment will result in faulty legislation. Grant also that hunger on the part of some to speak will not unnecessarily or unproductively prolong the afternoon. May those who hunger to be heard remember that others may not be as thirsty to hear.

This prayer we make in the name of Him who knew far better than most of us, when to speak up and when to shut up.

Amen.

Monday, May 18, 1987

Once more, O God, because of Thy providence and, we hope, the sound judgment of the members of this House, we are assembled for another week of debate, deliberation, and decision. In debate, grant that speech will be sincere, but never sarcastic.

In deliberation, assist the members of this House to discern the opinion of others, their own viewpoint, and Thy point of view.

In decision, give them the courage of conviction, and then the greater courage to stand by their conviction. This we seek and ask in the strong name of the Unpurchasable Man. Amen.

Tuesday, May 19, 1987

Almighty God, unto whom our lives are as well read books, and by whom every need of every individual is known, we join our hearts in prayer this day for the families and friends of those who died in the missile attack on the U. S. Navy frigate, Stark:

While others speculate concerning the incident, be Thou the strong supporter of all who grieve and are of heavy heart. While others investigate, be Thou the instigator of help from human hearts and hands for all who bear the heavy burden of the unexpected.

Be with the injured that there may be help for them at the hands of surgeons, physicians, and nurses, and also by the miracle of modern day medicine.

Oh God, help all of us to realize anew how suddenly we may be summoned from the earthly interests that engross us. Give us the blessed peace of knowing from our commitment that "our times are in Thy hands." Amen.

Wednesday, May 20, 1987

Once more, O God, the men and women who occupy these seats of responsibility and opportunity gather to make decisions that ultimately may affect the lives of thousands of the citizens of this State.

The search for truth is ever undertaken with the knowledge that what we find we do not always love, and therefore, not loving it we are loathe to live it.

May devotion to duty and their "word is their bond" be the motivation to follow the truth as they discover it, and although the road be hard to walk may it also be the route to enduring happiness.

We pray in the Name of Him who affirmed, "ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free." Amen.

Thursday, May 21, 1987

O Sovereign God, if some exercised their minds as they exercise their bodies, they would indeed be mental giants.

If some of us exercised our bodies as we exercise our mouths, we would be physical giants.

Most of us, Lord, will never be giants mentally or physically, but help us to be, with the best use of what we have and are, workmen and workwomen who need never be ashamed.

Our prayer we offer in the Name of the living and the working Christ. Amen.

Friday, May 22, 1987

Great God, sometimes the best medicine for weariness is a change of place, a change of pace, and a change of face. May these be the renewing blessings that this weekend provides. Until these needed mercies are experienced direct, we pray, the labor of this afternoon; illumine the minds and so direct the thinking that all that is attempted will be worthy of Thy blessing.

Again we remember in prayer the families and relatives of those men who died on the USS Stark; as they have been initiated into the fraternity of sorrow so may they also be introduced to Thy sustaining presence.

Our prayer we offer in the name of Him who ever rejoices with the glad and weeps with the sorrowful. Amen.

Friday, May 29, 1987

O Sovereign God, the strengthener of the weak, the refresher of the weary, and the raiser of the prostrate, none of us know how hard You worked in order to create and populate this planet we call earth, but many of us know how strenuous and extended were the labors of the members of this House in the past two weeks; equally overworked, our Father, were the supporting staffs of clerks and secretaries.

If a weekend ever was anticipated surely this is it; enable the members of this House to enter it with glad hearts, and relieved minds, borne of the knowledge that much was successfully done to meet the bill deadline of yesterday.

If any members are tempted to go home grouchy and complaining, help them to remember that they sought the office, the office did not seek them.

We pray in the name of Him who chose the way of the Cross with all its known cruelty and hardship, but who never uttered a grumbling or complaining word. Amen.

Tuesday, June 2, 1987

Great God, Thou whose will we can resist but never overcome, we enter a period of time in this House that is almost akin to a second semester in college or university.

As the members of this House come face to face with issues already decided by the Senate, grant to each Representative insight, honesty of intention, and integrity.

When issues are confronted that some may desire to avoid, help them to pause and ask the ever searching questions – If not now, – when? If not here, – where? If not me, – who?

Our prayer is offered in the Name of Him who never avoided the challenging and the controversial. Amen.

Wednesday, June 3, 1987

O Sovereign God, Thou who are omniscient, omnipotent, and omnipresent, we heartily and sincerely thank You for what we learned yesterday concerning the Shad boat, and its significance to the early and important development of commerce along the shores of our State.

We know that talent and technology have improved boats since that time, but there is a question that roams through the mind – Since boats are better than they were, are we human beings of today better than the men who built and manned and sailed those shad boats?

Can we human beings of today claim to be an improvement over the intrepid people of the shad boat age?

May the men and women of this House use well their opportunity to demonstrate that not only boats, but also mankind, has made progress.

We pray in the Name of Him who loved the sea and the mysteries and wonders of its depths. Amen.

Thursday, June 4, 1987

O wondrous God, whoever would have thought that dead people and dead cars would occasion so much conversation on the floor of this House? We thank you, Lord, that at least dead people are not abandoned as are dead cars. And we thank You for the thought that although we may create no waves while we live, we may stir the waters when we die. Through all the discussion of life and death, help us to recall the wisdom of one who said:

"Each makes a contribution to life. If you don't make it while you live, then you make it when you die."

Enable the members of this House to make their enduring contribution to the State and its citizens while they are members of the House, and not when they are defeated or replaced.

We offer prayer in the name of Him who made His immeasurable contribution by living, dying, and living again forever. Amen.

Friday, June 5, 1987

Great God, Thou mighty fortress, we pray in the words of the poet:

"Take from our souls the strain and stress,
And let our ordered lives confess
The beauty of Thy peace."

We seek Thy peace not only for the earnest and orderly and fruitful pursuit of the business of this day, but we seek it in order that the members of this House may go home for the weekend not as growling bears and scratching cats but as men and women well satisfied with the work of the week, and glad and grateful that now there is home to contemplate and family so soon to enjoy. May each be the weekend source of blessing for all whom they love.

Our prayer is offered in the name of Him who, with the experience of the Cross only a few hours distant, could still proclaim, "peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you." Amen.

Tuesday, June 9, 1987

Ancient of Days, the Friend of sinners, the Redeemer of the penitent, the Encourager of the trying, and the Strengthener of the struggling, very much do You want us to be content with what we have, and very discontent with what we are. Yet, Lord, we so often reverse the goals – very pleased with what we are, and most unhappy with what we have. Forgive us. Grant that what we are, and not what we have, will be reflected in the decisions made on this House floor; to that end may Thy Holy Spirit enable each member to separate the big from the little and the unimportant from the significant, and thus to provide laws that protect and benefit the greatest number of citizens of our State.

In faith and hope and love we pray. Amen.

Wednesday, June 10, 1987

Eternal God, how well You know that ofttimes there is an inner struggle to determine whether to keep the peace or to strive for the truth. At such times, help us to recall that striving for what is believed to be true is always the responsibility of every political leader.

To that end keep us aware that though ofttimes silence is golden, there are also times when silence is yellow.

We pray in the name of Him who went to the Cross and through the Cross, that truth may prevail. Amen.

Thursday, June 11, 1987

All-wise, all-knowing God, not all of us made it to the zoo yesterday and therefore missed an experience that undoubtedly was educational, interesting, entertaining and enjoyable.

But isn't it true, Lord, that wherever there is an assembly of men and women such as we have in this House chamber, there is a ZOO? Some as wise as chimpanzees and others dumb as horses; some like beavers, not much to look at but always on the job; some like giraffes, their necks always out, and some like turtles with nary a neck to be seen; some slow as elephants and others fast like zebras.

O God, there is much of an animal inside each one of us, but help each to demonstrate that he or she is a reasoning animal and a self-controlled animal and able to live as no other animal lives – a reflection of God who has created and in Christ redeemed, and by His Holy Spirit, empowered. Amen.

Friday, June 12, 1987

O God, since that remarkable product, lacteal fluid extracted from the female of the bovine species, is now the official State beverage, may the members of this House demonstrate by drinking it that their hearts went with their votes. But whether drunk or enjoyed or not, help all of us to remember that we can be dispensers of what Shakespeare described as "the milk of human kindness." May we be more generous in our distribution of that product, and above all, may there be an abundance served to the families to whom the men and women of this House so soon will be returning. In Thy strong Name we pray. Amen.

Monday, June 15, 1987

O Lord most holy, may Thy name be not only a word on our lips but also a reality in our thoughts and a strengthening and living presence in our lives.

God, Thou knowest that all of us want to be right all the time; when we listen to opinions and interpretations that are different from our own, grant us that inner disposition which enable us to say, "he or she may be right;" and who knows, Lord, but that the ending affirmation may be, "we are both wrong." Give to each such resiliency of thought.

According to His promise may thy Holy Spirit grant us right thinking for right conclusions.

In Thy strong Name, we pray. Amen.

Tuesday, June 16, 1987

Much has been said, Lord, about the occupancy tax; help us to remember that such a tax is nothing new; those of the Jewish and Christian faith know it as the Tithe. This is the tax we pay for the privilege of occupying and enjoying this remarkable planet called Earth. Such a tax, Lord, is always a reminder to us, Lord, that privilege is the measure of responsibility.

There is one difference, Lord; the communities involved require the payment; the payment of the tithe is not enforceable; You hope our awareness of dependence and our gratitude will make us cheerful givers.

We pray in the Name of Him who paid His tithe and taxes.

Amen.

Wednesday, June 17, 1987

O Giver, Lord, and Master of all Life, it is difficult to determine worthy and appropriate solutions to the problem of alcoholic beverages. Our thanks to Thee that this House is willing to come face to face with the issue. Not all solutions are pleasing to everyone, but everyone has opportunity for expression and to vote.

We recognize that many seek the sociality, the conviviality, and the companionship that bottled spirits provide. It may be Lord, that if those of us who direct the services of corporate worship on Sunday mornings were to make the hour more joyous and lively and fulfilling that there would be enough residue of high spirit to last from noon to one o'clock.

May those, Lord, who dinna participate in corporate worship on Sunday mornings, sleep late; help them sleep til noon, and by the time they dress and drive it will be one before they realize it.

We pray in Thy strong and holy Name. Amen.

Friday, June 19, 1987

Great God, with brains bruised from seeking answers to perplexing questions and solutions to pressing problems, surely the members of this House must wish that there was such a thing as an "answer tree." But just as we assure our families that money does not grow on trees, just as certainly do we know that neither are answers found on trees.

Thus there comes again the discipline of hard thinking; wearying though this may be, let the results prove the worthwhileness of the effort, and the outcome be abiding joy from work well done.

In Thy treasured Name we pray. Amen.

Monday, June 22, 1987

O laboring God, we thank You for work, and the strength with which to perform it. Be with those who need work and seek it but are unable to obtain it; be with those who have work but who lack the strength for it; be with those who ought to work but shirk it.

As the members of this House begin another week of deliberations, may they know the love of God which is beyond measurement, the grace of Christ which is sufficient for all needs, and the fellowship of the Holy Spirit who has promised to sustain us and also lead us into all truth.

This we seek because we know our needs, and humbly acknowledge that Thou alone can provide. Amen.

Tuesday, June 23, 1987

Almighty God, Thou whose presence is our joy and whose will is our peace, readily do we acknowledge that the lives of millions can be affected by the decision of one hundred. Because of this, we pray that Thou wilt invest the members of this House with a solemn awareness of the stewardship of power; may the members of this House regard their power not as a triumph but as a trust; may they ever acknowledge their responsibility and accountability to those whose confidence in them has given them this authority.

Our prayer is offered in the Name of Him who had limitless power, but who never used it carelessly or unwisely or selfishly. Amen.

Wednesday, June 24, 1987

Almighty God, much was said yesterday pertaining to amusement parks. But may it not be true, Lord, that one of the best amusement parks is the floor of this House. Admission is free and the entertainment is superb. Forbid, O God, that the doors of this House should ever be closed to laughter and levity, for there are many times when such is the yeast that gives rise to worthwhile legislation.

So order the business of this House, Lord, that citizens of our State never will be able to affirm that they were "taken for a ride" by those who occupy the desk seats on this floor.

Grant to each member that depth of understanding, that clarity of thought and that commitment to conviction, unto the end that what is done will be well pleasing in Thy sight.

Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Thursday, June 25, 1987

Almighty God, gracious and generous, we rejoice that You promise to hear all prayers whether spoken in American, English, Scots, or whatever. We thank You that You have given us, Eyes with which to see your Presence in this world.

Ears with which to hear Your voice.

Minds with which to ponder what we see and hear.

And wills with which to be obedient or disobedient.

Help us at all times, Lord, but especially when we know perfectly well what we ought to do but are reluctant to do it.

We pray in the Name of Him who made His will Your will despite the cost. Amen.

Monday, June 29, 1987

Almighty God, creator of all things, and giver of every good and perfect gift, once more the members of this House return to the difficult task of reconciling the wishes and wants of residents of their districts, the pressure from lobbyists, and the appeals from fellow legislators.

Whatever the decision, however they vote, they know there will be criticism; help them to take from it what is true and useful, and enable them to forgive and forget what is unkind and unjust. Help them also to remember that the only persons who are not criticized are the "do-nothings" and the dead; sometimes not even the latter are wholly exempt.

Our prayer is offered in the Name of Him who knows what it is to be criticized and condemned for doing good. Amen.

Tuesday, June 30, 1987

Almighty God, we come to Thee in the name of the Christ who affirmed:

"No man can serve two masters."

But times now, Lord, are different. Men and women who need two jobs for economic survival do of necessity serve two masters; the members of this House undoubtedly feel that they have multiple masters. How then, Lord, can ownership be exclusive and not multiple? Help us to see that the answer comes from Him who stated that if we will permit Thee to be sovereign ruler over and in our lives, then all other relationships will assume their rightful place. Keep then our service to Thee from being spasmodic and partial; help us to give Thee absolute, exclusive ownership, and thus to know the freedom to serve others according to Thy revealed will and purpose.

In Thy holy Name, we pray. Amen.

Wednesday, July 1, 1987

O gracious God, in days of criticism and censure enable the members of this House to recall the wise words of one who said:

"Idealism increases in direct proportion to one's distance from the problem."

(John Galsworthy)

Thus, our Father, newspaper editors and many preachers often are idealists, for they are distant from the issues.

But the members of this house, Lord, are every day face to face with the issues and problems; they live with them, eat with them, and some may even sleep with them, uncomfortable bed persons as they are.

Keep our faith from that naivete which often provides impractical solutions, and keep it also from that cynicism that breeds despair.

Our prayer is offered in the Name of Him whose ways are difficult, but ever wise and workable and practical. Amen.

Friday, July 3, 1987

God of our fathers and our God too, Thou who has made and who doth preserve us as a nation, we turn to Thee in Prayer because herewith we affirm that the words, "In God We Trust", is not only a message stamped on our coins, but also a belief that is accepted by our minds and cherished in our hearts.

On this Independence Day Eve grant that the deliberations and actions of the members of this House will reflect in deed what we love to affirm in words: "One nation under God, indivisible, with LIBERTY and JUSTICE for all."

We pray in the name of Him who loved His nation, and who voluntarily gave His life for the word and all mankind. Amen.

Tuesday, July 7, 1987

Gracious God, we come to Thee in the name of Jesus, who came to keep life from being "a drag" for those who believe and follow.

We read in a newspaper of yesterday that a lobbyist said there is a member of this House who is,

smart as hell."

Lord, if hell here means, "to the utmost possible capacity", then the description isn't all bad. The good government of a Republic and State such as ours requires powerful leaders, as long as such leadership acknowledges that power is a privilege and that privilege is always the measure of responsibility.

Worthy government, Lord, requires leaders who are "smart", and the more intelligent the better, as long as there is remembrance that it is the life purpose of the educated person that is significant. Meanness, Lord, is a quality of which most of us have an over-abundance, but there are occasions when it is the tool that accomplishes the goal. However, Lord, most of us need to pray that we will abound more and more in kindness, good will, and thoughtfulness.

We pray in the Name of Him who was blunt, determined, and dedicated. Amen.

Wednesday, July 8, 1987

Almighty God, Thou who dost ignore the unjustly proud, but art so gracious to the sincerely humble, there comes to mind the words of the ancient Roman proverb:

"nothing more useful than sun and salt."
(Nil utilius sole et sale)

But today there is knowledge that sun and salt, excessively availed of and used, are detrimental to sound health; thus, Lord, does our understanding grow, and our behavior is modified. Even so with laws, Lord, circumstances dictate change and alteration. Thus may the members of this House never be afraid of a new idea, or unresponsive to a new thought.

Our prayer is offered in the Name of Jesus, who in His own words, came "not to annul the law but to give them their completion." (Matt. 5:17) Amen.

Thursday, July 9, 1987

Our Father, there are those who believe that the progress of this Assembly is torturously slow. Perhaps a better word would be – deliberate – for surely sound legislation deserves careful consideration. But there are some matters, Lord, concerning which we are exasperatingly slow; we are slow to see the good in others, and slow to see the evil in ourselves. In honest acknowledgment of such we pray in the words of Robert Burns:

"O wad some power the giftie gae us,
To see oorselves as ithers see us!
It wad frae monie a blunder free us,
An' foolish notion."

Our prayer we offer in the Name of Him who warned us about seeing the speck of sawdust in the eye of another but who fail to see the plank in our own. Amen.

Friday, July 10, 1987

We recall with gratitude, our Father, the words of the Psalmist (84:11):

"For the Lord God is a sun and shield
The Lord will give favor and honor.
No good thing does the Lord withhold
From those who walk uprightly."

One of the many good gifts of Thine for which we give Thee thanks this morning is another coming weekend. For all who utilize wisely the hours, may they be providers of renewed enthusiasm and restored energy. May there be no drift nets, Crab pots, steel traps, or any other obstacles that will dilute the joy or destroy the pleasure.

We pray in the Name of the Christ who recognized the value of retreat from the regular and the routine. Amen.

Monday, July 13, 1987

We come to Thee, our Father, in the glad but also sobering assurance that Your knowledge of each one of us outdistances our own.

You know where we live, You know our names, You even know the number of hairs on our head; we also recognize that for men like Ed Warren and this preacher, the latter is not too difficult a task.

We rejoice that You know our NEEDS. Of this we are certain because Jesus said:

"Your Heavenly Father knoweth all things you have need of, even before you ask Him."

(Matthew 6:8)

Help us not only to believe the above, but so to live it that a day will come when we affirm with the Apostle Paul:

"My God does supply all my need according to His riches in glory in Christ Jesus."

(Philippians 4:19)

Amen.

Tuesday, July 14, 1987

Holy Father, Friend unseen but Presence felt, we know that You long to help us far more than we seek Thy help; perhaps, Lord, You weep over us even as you shed tears when You sought to help the people of Jerusalem and they "would not." But we need to understand, Lord, that Your help does not mean that we are kept from pressure, released from tension, granted escape from decisions, or excused from voting.

Help us to know that You are with us:

To maintain pressure to the degree that progress is possible.

To fine-tune our tension since a violin string without tension creates only noise and never harmony.

To help us separate in our minds the material from the immaterial.

To help us vote not because it is popular or practical or expedient, but because it is right.

We pray in the Name of Him who came "Not to be ministered unto but to minister, and to give His life a ransom for many." Amen.

Wednesday, July 15, 1987

O sovereign God, Thou who dost govern in the affairs of mankind whether we recognize Thee or not, when sometimes we become tired of the seemingly endless statements of preachers and politicians, and there is an insistent urge to stick a sock in the mouth of the offender, help us to remember the words of Justice Hugo Black, a famed jurist:

"Free speech is always the deadliest enemy of tyranny."

And when, Lord, it is embarrassing to conduct the business of the House with visitors in the Gallery may there be remembrance of other words from the same source:

"The business of the governments is not done behind locked doors."

We pray in the name of the Christ who is the open door to salvation, freedom and sufficiency. Amen.

Thursday, July 16, 1987

O Gracious God, limitless in power and unchanging in purpose, we come to Thee in the name of Him who gave us what we describe as The Beatitudes; those affirmations that are the step-by-step stairway to redemption and usefulness and abiding joy.

We thank Thee also for others who from time to time express themselves in "blesseds" that are worthy of remembrance; we recall to mind the words of some unknown parent:

"Blessed are those who have nothing to say, and the courage not to say it."

Amen.

Friday, July 17, 1987

Great God, marvelous Creator and mighty Sustainer, like gas powered vehicles when used, we too run out of fuel, and we know there is no help available from those around us whose tanks also are empty. Thus Lord, we thank You for this coming weekend, when the members of this House may be able to find replenishing and renewal at home with family and friends. Wherever they go may they find themselves in the midst of those who understand them, appreciate them, encourage them, and love them. May such honest, and maybe undeserved, affection and adulation revive and restore and renew within each one a stimulating self-confidence.

If there be none to love them or appreciate them, may they be revived as they recall the simple but unforgettable words:

"Jesus loves me this I know,
For the Bible tells me so."

We pray in the Name of Him whose loving and serving and self-sacrificing life makes possible such assurance. Amen.

Monday, July 20, 1987

God of grace and God of glory, the constant Companion of all our days, we recall to mind the words of T. S. Eliot:

"This is the way the world ends.
Not with a bang but a whimper."

Forbid, O God, that this Assembly which began on such a resounding note should end as a whimper.

Help us to remember that Eliot was writing of "hollow men." People so unstable and flimsy that they accomplish nothing, either for good or for ill.

Enable the members of this House to become persons of strong purpose; people who will cast aside pettiness and littleness and bring to consideration the matters that are so relevant to the citizens of our State. Help them to demonstrate that they are the elite of this Legislature.

We pray in the name of the Christ who was solid through and through. Amen.

Tuesday, July 21, 1987

God, isn't it interesting how we label each other?

Republican or Democrat.
Conservative or Liberal.
Nerd or Rebel.
Progressive or Obstructionist.
Wimp or Macho.
Supersub or Superdud.

And the list could be endless.

God help us to realize that You see us as persons. People with the need for commendation, recognition, security, creativity, love, and much else. Help us to know that You see us as human beings with feelings – – feelings that can be hurt, dampened, nurtured, and stimulated.

Help all in this House to see each other as You see us, and although we can never do for each other what You long to do and will do for each of us, may we be given more to praise than pigeon-holing, more to acceptance than rejection, and more to understanding than condemning.

Our prayer is offered in the Name of the Redeeming Christ. Amen.

Thursday, July 23, 1987

Almighty God, Thou whom we are privileged and encouraged by Christ to call, Father, as we push on in our earthly pilgrimage we do so either as tourists or travelers. Those of us who are tourists usually have a destination to arrive at by a determined date. The travelers, Lord, seem to take their time and to enjoy so much of what they see along the way. Maybe the difference is, Lord, that the tourists are sight-seers and the travelers are people-seers.

May the members of this House be as travelers, regardless of what may be said by outsiders concerning the seeming slow pace of this year's Assembly. Help these lawmakers to see people and their needs, and to take whatever time is required for the worthy and adequate meeting of the needs of the citizens of our State.

We pray in the name of the Christ who in all His journeys saw people before He ever saw places, and seeing, never was too busy to help. Amen.

Friday, July 24, 1987

Almighty God, Thou whose gifts are many and marvelous, we thank You for eyes and ears and tongues which enable us to affirm with the poet:

"This is my Father's world,
The birds their carols raise,
The morning light, the lily white,
Declare their Maker's praise."

Lord, may it still be morning, this morning, when today's session is adjourned. To that end help the thoughts to be cogent, the words to be pungent, and our tongues kept on a short leash.

We ask it in the Name of Him to whom nothing is impossible. Amen.

Monday, July 27, 1987

Great God, the members of this House may not be where they would prefer to be or even expected to be on this July evening, but since we are here, help us to make the most of the occasion and the time.

There comes to mind, Lord, the words of the poet, Carl Sandburg:

"I know a Jew fish-crier on Maxwell Street,
With a voice like the north wind blowing over corn stubble in January.

- - - - -

He is terribly glad that God has made fish,
And people to whom to sell them."

Lord, if one of your creatures can be happy peddling fish on a Chicago street, surely the members of this House can rejoice in the work that they have been called to do. Help them now to be grateful for worthwhile work, and the opportunity to do it superbly well.

Our prayer is offered in the Name of the laboring and loving Jesus Christ. Amen.

Tuesday, July 28, 1987

As we pause for prayer, Lord, there is the recollection of the words of the Psalmist (103):

"Bless the Lord, O my soul,
And all that is within me, bless His holy Name.
Bless the Lord, O my soul,
And forget not all His benefits."

We thank Thee, Lord, that there are no icy streets and sidewalks, as once there were, and that there is no snow to shovel. Lord, for some of us there is no grass on the lawns that require mowing: weeds, maybe, but no grass.

We praise Thy Name, Lord, for our prized liberty, for the life by which we relate to those around us, for the happiness that comes from work to do and work well done, for love to share and to receive, and for the material recompense that makes the labor even more enjoyable.

We pray in the Name of Him who is Thy best benefit to all mankind, Jesus the Christ. Amen.

Wednesday, July 29, 1987

Lord, if we believe the editorial in the Raleigh morning paper of today, then we have in our midst "Peck's Bad Boy."

But isn't it true, Lord, that every active organization of men and women includes at least one person who is "the catfish in the herring tank," that creature which keeps the fish moving and prevents the flesh of the fish from becoming flabby? Are there not times, Lord, when the bite of a horse-fly spurs a sluggish horse to speed? Are there not occasions, Lord, when the sting of a hornet puts haste to our steps?

But not all, our Father, can be decision makers and leaders or "the Boss of Jones Street," and for them the prayer would be the words of the late Dr. Peter Marshall:

> "Our influence may not be great, but it can be good. Our speech may not be eloquent, but it can be truthful and sincere. We cannot all have good looks, but we can have good conscience, and, having that, we shall have peace of mind and need fear no man."

Amen.

Thursday, July 30, 1987

We are assembled, Lord, for the business of another day; Your ears will hear what is said, and Your eyes will be upon us. You will see some sitting at their desks as placid as cows in a field; there will be no cud to chew, but there will be an abundant supply of peanuts and M&M's on which to munch. Others, Lord, will pace with the restlessness of caged wild animals; some will huddle like sheep, and others with those in close proximity, will chatter like monkeys.

Whatever the position or disposition of the body, Lord, may their minds be hot, and may they demonstrate to Thee and all others who see that they are men and women of principle, independent thought, unselfish purpose, and integrity.

To that end may Thy Holy Spirit enable them to sit with energy and participate with earnestness. In Thy strong Name we pray. Amen.

Friday, July 31, 1987

Lord God, in these moments when we pause to pray help us to remember with thanksgiving that Thou art

> The light of those who find Thee,
> The joy of those who know Thee,
> And the strength of those who trust Thee.

Help us to remember, Lord, the Biblical advice:

> "If it be possible, as much as lieth in you, live peaceably with all men." (Romans 12:18)

In political life, Lord, this is a tough assignment, but we are admonished to do our best. Lord, keep us strong in our endeavor, and by the inner strength of Thy Holy Spirit grant us enough victories to keep our effort prolonged and our confidence strong.

Sometimes, Lord, the hardest place to live peaceably with others is at home; enable us to be to our families this weekend the companions and helpers that will make them sad and not glad when Monday's departure hour arrives.

In Thy strong Name we pray. Amen.

Monday, August 10, 1987

Sovereign God, Maker and Monarch and Ruler of all, we recall the words of someone who said:

"Be careful of your thoughts; they may break into words at any time."

Many of us know, our Father, the embarrassment which sometimes follows the vocal expression of our innermost thoughts; we pray as did the Psalmist:

"Set a guard over my mouth, O Lord;
Keep watch over the door of my lips."

Psalm 141:3

Forgive us, Lord, that far too frequently we restrain our lips from expressing our thoughts concerning Thee. Tonight we affirm in word that which, we pray, is the thought of all:

Yours is a love beyond the measure of our minds.

Yours is grace that is greater than all our sin.

Yours is a peace that is not the absence of trouble, but the assurance of sufficiency for every need.

We pray in the Name of the Christ who is the Transmitter and Surety of all such blessings. Amen.

Tuesday, August 11, 1987

Almighty God, we thank Thee that when distance separates us from those we know and who are under the shadow of bereavement, that we may be joined to them in spirit through the privilege of prayer. Thus we remember in prayer Representative Toby Fitch and others in the family who mourn this day the death of his mother. May all in the family know this day the companionship of the Christ who brings the reinforcement of His presence, fortitude sufficient for the facing of this day and courage for the fruitful living of the future.

Be with the members of this House who have gathered to tackle the issues of the day. May those who speak, create sparkle and excitement and interest by all they say. May those who listen, separate the good grain from the chaff. When all has been said and vote has been recorded, may victors be humble and vanquished be noble.

We pray in the Name of Jesus whose daily life was ever a prayer of praise to you. Amen.

Wednesday, August 12, 1987

Lord God of Hosts, Thou who hast

the listening ear,
the encouraging voice,
the shepherding hand,

how well we know that few citizens of our State ever realize how many working, laboring hours are given to the conception, preparation, discussion and passage of legislation. The truth is, Lord, that most don't care enough to want to know or learn to know.

There come to mind, Lord, the words of Johnny Sain:

"The world doesn't want to hear about the labor pains. It only wants to see the baby."

Labor pains are excruciating, Lord, before good laws, and sometimes bad laws, are given birth. But as the members of the House look back upon the labor of the months may they find to be true the words of Jesus:

"A woman when she is in labor hath pain.
But when she is delivered of the child, she remembereth no more the anguish, for the joy that a child is born into the world."
(John 16:21)

O God, may the productivity of this Legislative session prove to be so worthwhile, and thus the joy of the members of this House so pervading, that the labor pains preceding birth are soon forgotten. Amen.

Thursday, August 13, 1987

Almighty God, thou who art awake, and watching and helpful at all hours and through all hours, we have heard much in these past days about compacts; what we have heard has not been too compact, but again we thank you for liberty of thought and freedom of speech, and patience to listen.

O God, in these days when
nerves are taut
and bodies are weary

help us to remember the compact you have with us:

"Come unto me all ye who are weary and heavy laden, and I will give you rest."

"I will not fail you or forsake you."

"Cast thou burden upon the Lord and He will sustain."

Help us to remember Your unbreakable compact with us, and help us to remember also Grace Collins, that she may be the recipient of physical blessings from those who medically minister to her. We thank you for her work and her strongly supportive and cooperative staff.

We pray in the Name of Him who is the compact's guarantor, Jesus Christ. Amen.

Friday, August 14, 1987

Gladly and gratefully we acknowledge, O Lord, that Thou art the giver of every good and perfect gift. Many members of this House fervently hope that your good gift to them this day will be the final adjournment of this year's legislative session. If it isn't Lord, you may have to provide the Speaker with divine protection.

Seriously, Lord, many members of this House who hunger for adjournment know that in the immediate days to come there will be a void in their lives. They will miss the companionship and camaraderie, the mental challenges,

the verbal conflicts,
the political maneuvering,
and even the social gatherings.

May memories that linger be cherished. May the labor of this House prove in months to come to be so meritorious that the members will be proud and glad to claim their part in it. When time evidences that some legislation is in error, enable the members of this House to be candid enough to admit it, and so preserve them in the months to come that in June of next year they will return to make correction.

We pray in the Name of the Christ who said, "Wherever you go, I go with you." Amen.

INDEX GUIDE

Following each bill title, the last action or present status of said bill is indicated. For example, a bill ratified will be followed by its chapter number in the Session Laws. If the bill remains in committee, the name of the committee is so noted. If the bill has passed the House and been sent to the Senate, this is indicated by the word "Senate". If a bill has an identical Senate or House bill, that identical bill number appears in parentheses preceded by "H" or "S".
